Big Libel Suit Against Ford Being Started

Dazzling Array Of Witnesses For Suit For Million In Detroit

FORD DECLARES HE WILL PROVE CHARGES

Aaron Sapiro, Attorney, And Farmers' Organizer, Is Plaintiff In Suit

By WILLIAM S. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

DETROIT, March 14—A dazzling array of millionaires, potential candidates for the presidency and just plain politicians were concentrated here today for participation in the $1,000,000 libel suit brought against Henry Ford by Aaron Sapiro, nationally known attorney and organizer of farmers' cooperatives.

Ford Says He'll Prove Charges.

The suit resulted from a series of articles, published by Ford in his Dearborn Independent, which charged Sapiro with dominating and exploiting the farmers. Sapiro charged this libelled him while Ford replied, through his attorneys, by declaring he would prove the charges.

The trial actually will get under way tomorrow with the selection of a jury in the federal district court. Attorneys for Sapiro, however, will appear before Federal Judge Fred S. Raymond sometime today to enter a number of motions.

The $1,000,000 sought by Sapiro apparently meant little to Ford as the auto king apparently was spending half that sum to defend the suit. His chief of council was Senator James A. Reed (D) of Missouri, while a dozen lesser legal lights backed the Missourian.

Big Chinese Battle Is Now In Progress To Get Shanghai

Cantonese Forces Launch Supreme Effort For China's Chief Seaport

Battle In Progress In Vicinity Of Wukiang—Losses Are Heavy

By ALFRED MEYER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SHANGHAI, March 14.—The Cantonese forces under General Chiang Kai-Shek today launched their supreme effort for the control of Shanghai and the millions of customs revenue collected at China's chief seaport. A tremendous battle is in progress in the vicinity of Wukiang.

Notwithstanding appalling losses, the Cantonese today threw their trained shock troops again at the heavily entrenched lines of General An Kuo-Chun, field commander of General Chang Tsung Chang, the Shantung commander.

At this writing there was not much advantage apparent with either side. An Duo-Chun is rushing up reinforcements from Nanking to Soochow and Wukiang.

Serious Developments

Serious developments are looming at Hankow on account of the reported widening breach among the nationalist leaders.

Trouble of another nature looms on the Yangtse river. The Chinese warships stationed at Shanghai are planning to join the nationalists and are refusing to obey the Shantung commanders' orders. Fengtien warships are reported en route here from Tsingtao, and an open clash between the vessels of the two factions is feared.

The labor terrorists in Shanghai today claimed their 25th victim with the murder of a Japanese cotton mill foreman.

Mellon Confers On Projects At State Capital

Chairman Of Republican State Committee Urges Legislative Action

ADMINISTRATION TO PUSH BILLS

Election Reforms, Tax On Gas, Compensation Bills To Be Pushed Forward

By G. ROSS DOWNING
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 14.—With W. L. Mellon, chairman of the Republican state committee, in Harrisburg, this week's session of the legislature which opens tonight is expected to take on impetus and move rapidly toward the completion of the administration's program.

Important legislation in which Gov. John S. Fisher is particularly interested has been lying dormant. The inactivity on the part of the lawmakers has caused the governor to urge more action. Among the matters on which Governor Fisher desires prompt and thorough consideration are the election reforms, the gasoline gas tax, the workmen's compensation law and the amendments to the administrative code.

Mellon, in the few hours he has been in Harrisburg since his return from a Florida trip, has indicated that he will push hard this week for action on the election bills of Senators Harris of Allegheny and Weingartner of Lawrence, the latter the Fisher measure.

Reasonable Latitude.

It may be necessary to pull some teeth from the election bills to get them through the legislature, according to the belief of Mellon. "Reasonable latitude," he said, "must be allowed on these bills. The state leader will sit in with the senate sub-committee on election reform this week for the purpose of putting the measures in shape to receive the most favorable consideration from the upper body of the legislature.

"There is considerable protest against the 3-cent gasoline tax," Mellon said, "but the governor feels if there is to be continued road construction, more revenue is needed."

Convicts In Stone Quarry Are Reported In Break For Liberty

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

JOLIET, Ill., March 14.—Two Chicago convicts were recaptured and one, possibly two, made their escape amid a hail of bullets in a sensational break for liberty at the Joliet penitentiary today.

With all available guards pressed into the man hunt, early reports indicated that not more than three or four escaped in all, of which Lenardi Russo and Joseph Pasquale, believed to be the chief plotters, were quickly recaptured.

Make Break for Liberty

JOLIET, Ill., March 14.—More than 150 convicts working on the stone quarry at Stateville penitentiary were reported to have made a break for freedom today.

Four of the 150 made their escape from the guard, but three of them were recaptured within half an hour.

Screaming sirens and gongs launched the hunt by penitentiary guards and Joliet authorities for the remaining convicts.

Arraign Woman In Connection With Peddler's Death

Allege Waynesburg Woman Accomplice In Murder Of Assyrian Peddler

(International News Service)

WAYNESBURG, Pa., March 14.—Ida Barker Stewart, wife of Charles W. Stewart, who was found guilty of second degree murder in connection with the slaying of Sam Abraham, an Assyrian peddler, in the Stewart home here last October, was herself arraigned today on a first degree murder.

Five talesmen were examined during the forenoon session of court but none qualified as jurors. Indications were that an even longer period would be required to complete the jury in Mrs. Stewart's case than at her husband's trial.

The commonwealth contends that robbery was the motive behind Abraham's death and that Mrs. Stewart robbed him of $60 or more, the district attorney said.

Stewart was held in jail today while his attorneys prepared a motion for a new trial.

WOMAN SLAPS KERENSKY IN PUBLIC MEETING

(International News Service)

Kerensky, president of the provisional government of Russia in 1917 making his first appearance on a lecture platform in the United States was slapped in the face by a woman and had a bouquet of roses thrown into his face.

Nearly 5,000 persons had gathered to hear Kerensky. As he began his address Miss Catherine Bary advanced from her seat in the audience with a bouquet of red roses. Suddenly she slapped Kenersky across the face, then hurled the flowers at his face.

Turmoil ensued as the audience fought among themselves. Kenersky remained calm. Later he completed his address.

At Kerensky's reqesut Miss Bary was not arrested. The woman said her atack was prompted by the belief that Kerensky was responsible for the death of her fiance a Russian aviator during the world war.

SENATOR KING IS BARRED FROM ENTERING HAYTI

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 14.—If Senator Wm. H. King (D.) of Utah succeeds in entering Hayti it will be through his own efforts and not to state department intercession in his behalf, it appeared today.

State department officials said this morning they were "powerless" to aid the Utah senator who had been classed as "undesirable" by the Haytian president and barred from the country.

Despite the American occupation of the little republic by a permanent garrison of U. S. marines and the fact that most of the governmental functions there are conducted by marine officers officials of the department explained that Hayti is a sovereign power and entitled to exclude anyone her president sees fit.

Ten Fire Calls Over Week End

Firemen Kept Busy Responding To Alarms—No Serious Fires

Firemen of the city answered ten box and still fire alarms over the week-end. Eight of these alarms were caused by grass fires.

Saturday evening at 5:30 o'clock an alarm from box 611 called the firemen to the home of Hubbard Jackson, 615 Etna street, where the shingle roof had been set on fire by sparks from the chimney. The loss was $25. An alarm from box 69 at 7 o'clock Sunday evening called them to the home of Harold Downs, 905 McCleary avenue, where another roof fire caused damage to the extent of $10.

The grass fire alarms other than those already mentioned in the Saturday and Monday issues were as follows: Saturday—Still alarms calling the firemen to Elizabeth street and Delaware avenue, Locust street extension, and Albert street and Clenmore boulevard, box 79 grass fire on Clayton street. Sunday—Box 79 at 10:15 a. m. for a grass fire on Clayton street.

TEST WHISTLE

When No. 26 was sounded at noon today by the fire whistle, it was generally thought that there might be another fire added to the long list over the week-end.

Investigation, however, developed the fact that the whistle was merely being tested.

Formal Session Of Commission Set For Tuesday

Board Has Task Of Eliminating About 400 Of 700 Stations

CAN ALLOW 300 ON AIR NIGHTLY

Gigantic Task Confronts New Board Of Clearing Up Radio Jumble

By ROBERT S. THORNBURG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Members of the new federal radio commission met informally today to consider the gigantic job of unscrambling the radio broadcasting jumble. Today's session preceded the first formal session tomorrow.

Major Tasks

Several major tasks must be accomplished before the listener gets any benefit of regulation:

(1) Division of the country into radio zones within which broadcasting stations will have wave-lengths separation of at least 10 kilocycles.

(2) Shift of American stations from wave-lengths allotted to Canada, Mexican and Cuban broadcasters.

(3) Determination of what stations must reduce their power and solution of the question of time division to eliminate simultaneous operation on similar wave-lengths of nearby or powerful stations.

(4) Determination of what stations must be silenced.

Must Cut Out 400 Stations

Scientific research shows that 300 stations properly divided geographically and by kilocycle frequency may operate in the United States without serious interference.

The new commission faced a situation where nearly 700 stations are on the air nightly.

Must Eliminate Stations

Despite the cry against monopoly the commission will be forced to eliminate some of the excessive competition if radio is to survive, members said.

The commission, in determining what stations will be licensed, will give preference to stations longest on the air which are offering the public high-class entertainment.

Thus, it is understood, such stations as KDKA, Pittsburgh; WEAF, New York; WGY, Schenectady; WBZ, Springfield; WJZ, New York; WEBH, Chicago; WLW, Cincinnati; WLS, Chicago; WSB, Atlanta; WWJ, Detroit; WMBF, Miami Beach; WSMB, New Orleans; WSAI, Cincinnati; KFKX, Hastings, Neb.; KOA, Denver; KPO, San Francisco; KGO, Oakland, Cal., KFI, Los Angeles, and other well-known broadcasters, would have preferential standing.

The position of stations which have "taken the air" since last July when Attorney General Sargent ruled the government without authority to regulate broadcasting, is uncertain. The right to higher Considerable damage was done to the engine and motor. The police are investigating.

I do not claim such tastes as these, no gentleman perhaps am I, for brunettes have a certain charm, and redheads must not be passed by. Don't misintrepret what I say, I like the blondes, most any shade, but lark tressed lassies claim an eye and as for redheads, I'm afraid, they call for just a trifle more than merely saying they are nice, for freely I confess the corn, they rate with me much more than nice. As I have said, I may not be a gentleman, but this I say, I like them all, light, dark or red, the weather's 43 today.

Witness Is Absent Case Is Continued; Court Is Dismissed

Owing to the absence of a material witness the case of the Commonwealth against Mrs. Frances Donnelly, which was scheduled to come up before Judge Hildeband this morning, was continued until tomorrow morning.

The case is one in which Mrs. Donnelly is charged with the larceny of a fur coat from the Brown and Hamilton store. Mrs. Donnelly denies the charge, claiming to have bought the coat at another store. There is a large array of witnesses on both sides and the case is expected to be the most important of the present session.

Expecting to take up the Donnelly case first, District Attorney J. Elder Bryan, did not have witnesses present to take up another case. Court was adjourned until this afternoon, when it is expected that witnesses for another case can be secured.

Announces Her Plans.

"I'm going to travel—that's what I'm going to do!" Betty smiles. "I've never been anywhere." Just a flying trip to Gulfport, Miss., and back home—that constitutes her travel to date. "And I've always wanted to travel," she adds.

"I had my heart set on 'seeing America first,' but my friends are trying hard to persuade me that I ought to start with Europe. I haven't made up my mind just which I'll do to start."

But she's going to finish her course at the University. Of that she's positive. And she's not going to be married "for a long, long time." She smiles an extra big smile when she says that.

No Stage for Her!

"Neither am I going on the stage!" Emphatically. "What's the use?" she asks. "I know I'd never make an actress on the stage." This in spite of the fact that she received two offers of contracts to go to vaudeville at something like $3,000 a week before formal announcement of her award had been made.

"But the movies—well, I might consider that if there should be a chance. I have an idea I'd be able to make good there. I guess I'm just too timed to face audiences in person."

Almost—But Not Quite.

Miss Schraeder almost talked herself out of the $10,000. A friend sent her photo to the newspaper. When Miss Schraeder learned of it, she remonstrated. She finally called her mother by long distance and asked for advice. Her mother thought it was "hardly the nice thing to do—to get in one of those contests." But friends prevailed upon them to reconsider.

And now the peachiest peach is studying the time tables and ship sailings, to say nothing of the glowing literature available to everyone who has ambitions to see the world or parts thereof.

Ex-Sergeant Paul Case, Room 117 Grace Building, Brockton, Mass., states that while serving with the American Army in France he was given a prescription for Rheumatism and Neuritis that has produced most gratifying results in thousands of cases. He says the prescription cost him nothing, so he asks nothing for it, but will send it free to any one who writes him.

20 Years From Now.

In predicting things as they will be 20 years from now an editor includes the following in his prophecy:

"People will go to medical institutes to be overhauled at regular intervals just as they send their cars to the service station today."

If, however, people will adopt the simple expedient of having a thorough yearly physical examination made by their physician it will be unnecessary to go to medical institutes to be "overhauled."

Prevention is better than cure and the only way in which there can be effective prevention is where there is knowledge of exact conditions. That is what the examination affords.

Town Talk

Patrons of the street car lines of the city are expressing themselves rather freely over the fine shaking up they are receiving in some of the cars now in use on the lines here.

An investigation has developed the fact that the cars that are doing the shaking are those brought here recently from Sharon in exchange for some of the cars that have been in use here.

According to reports reaching the city police over the week end there are individuals in this city who have been helping themselves to slag dumped on Center street for the use of the city.

The materials have been dumped at this point for the convenience of street department of the city, being a central point.

It is said that individuals have ben coming to the dump with trucks and wagons and helping themselves to the slag and at the expense of the taxpayers of the city.

An investigation is underway and if the persons responsible for the removal of the slag are caught they will be dealt with according to the law.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry N. Brest of 302 Highland avenue received a letter from their son Charlie, who is in the U. S. Navy training school at Hampton Roads, Va., stating that he was well and liked the service very much. In a test examination they took in the electric school Charlie made the second highest mark in the class, his mark being 96 per cent. He also is one of the instructors in the swimming class of the men that do not know how to swim. This speaks well for the Junior High school, as Charlie graduated from the electrical department of the Ben Franklin Junior High.

There was an epidemic of canvassing in this city yesterday. Solicitors from three or four churches of the city took part in the annual every-member canvass for the congregations. The solicitors report excellent success.

New Castle school board will meet this evening at the North street junior high school building, for a regular session.

There was some excitement this morning at the city police station, when it was reported from No. 1 North Front street, that there was a mad dog at that place.

Officer Charles Longstreth was detailed and made sure that he was properly armed before leaving, taking with him a shot gun and other needed equipment.

On his arrival there he found that instead of a mad dog, that there was a white bull dog, which insisted in going round and round in a circle, apparently after one of his hind paws. He made no effort to attack the officer or any person else.

The officer took the dog in charge and brought him to the police station, where the dog performed again in the same manner. Finally Officer Nelson suggested that the dog might be thirsty and he was given a drink. He then discontinued his unusual performance which had caused the suspicion that he might be mad.

Latest report at the police station is to the effect that the dog may be the property of a police officer.

ANDREWS WILL CALL DISTILLERS INTO CONFERENCE

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 14.—A conference of leading distillers will be called in Washington shortly by Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, prohibition chief, with a view to solving the medicinal whiskey problem by agreement.

Andrews said some action is necessary owing to congress' failure to pass the medicinal whiskey bill which would have put the government into the distilling business.

A plan will be put up to the distillers to buy out the "little fellows" and get the medicinal distilling business so concentrated that it can be more easily controlled to prevent diversion.

MELLON CONFERS ON PROJECTS AT STATE CAPITAL

Two public hearings on bills in committees have been scheduled for tomorrow afternoon. The senate committee on health and sanitation will hear arguments on the Grimes bill to license beauty parlors and the Hricko bill to prohibit one-man crews will be debated before the house electric railways committee.

With 33 bills scheduled for final action the senate again faces a heavy Monday night session. Eleven are scheduled for action on the second reading calendar.

Deadly Weapon Measure.

Included in the list for final action is the bill of Senator Salus, Philadelphia, which was drafted as a consolidation measure to replace a score of other bills aimed to throw safeguards about the possession of deadly weapons.

At a hearing on a number of the original bills much opposition was lodged to certain features of them. It was asserted that under their provisions it would be almost impossible for a householder to purchase or possess a revolver for the protection of his home. The measure of Senator Woodward which would permit the addition of municipal, county and township employes to the state employe's retirement association is the first bill scheduled for final action.

Such employes would be permitted to join the association under the same rules and regulations which now obtain for those on the state payroll. Allegheny county, which already has a pension system, is exempt from the provisions of the bill.

The house will have 50 bills in shape for third and last reading tonight, among which will be the Sterling bill to prohibit the sale of liquid fuels, lubricating oils and similar products under false or fictitious names and also to prohibit the sale of liquid fuel from tanks carrying a name other than that of the product contained in the tank.

Among the other bills which can be passed finally tonight are:

Garard bill fixing salaries of treasurers and clerks in seventh class counties.

Sowers bill authorizing building and loan associations to increase their capital stock irrespective of the limitations of their charters.

Sterling measure creating a state board of parole commissioners.

Marcus bill providing that jury commissioners secure additional information about jurors by ascertaining their religious beliefs and their connection with secret societies.

Leslie bill fixing the compensation of second class county commissioners.

McClure bill recodifying borough laws.

the local men were told they could count on their outside brethern for fullest support.

Report dinners will be held each evening this week. The workers will do their soliciting during the day so that they may have the evening to themselves.

Lucius E. Wilson, president of the General Organization company of Chicago will be in the city for a part of the week and will be the principal speaker at the team dinners. Mr. Wilson created a very favorable impression during his visit here earlier in the campaign when he conducted the training school for workers. He is a speaker of unusual ability.

Tuesday evening will be "Sharon night." It is expected that 20 members from that city will be here for the dinner, preparatory to starting active solicitation in their town. On Thursday a group of local men will journey to Butler where they will be met by Butler citizens who will go out with them to solicit members there. A luncheon will be served the visitors at noon.

In order that out-of-town members may be kept fully informed of the day-by-day progress of the campaign a "Pink Sheet" bulletin will be issued each day containing last minute reports. This will be sent to every man working in the surrounding cities.

C.B.D.

CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

SHE MADE HER CHANCE

Among the innumerable handicaps that human flesh thinks it is heir to is that of being born a girl. Many very bright young women look into the future, well-equipped with all the education and natural acumen that anyone needs for almost any kind of a career, and say: "After all, I'm not a man, you know. A girl has no chance, outside the home-keeping job, and what measure of success she may have there is a matter of luck."

Now, there is Mary Dillon, among others. She is president of the Brooklyn Borough Gas company, a concern that does an annual business of a million and a half dollars, doubles its business capacity every five years, and is ranked among the 25 largest gas companies in the country.

Mary Dillon didn't get her job through the death of a husband, the wire-pulling of a father, or the political influence of an uncle. It was very simple, the way Mary Dillon got that job of hers.

Twenty-three years ago Mary Dillon won an essay contest in her high school. Her older sister was working for the gas company, but was about to marry. The only job Mary had held was a summer vacation job of handing out bathing suits at a beach near her home. But she went to the gas office, told the manager about her work in high school, and said she'd like a chance to begin at the bottom and wrok up to the job her sister was leaving. It wasn't much of a job, at that, but it was something.

So they made Mary Dillon an office boy, and many a guying she got for holding down a boy's job.

The rest? Oh, that's simple enough. Mary just did her work a little better than anybody else could do it, moved gradually up the ladder of promotion, always offering ideas and original plans for better ways of doing this and that in her department, and eventually became head of the works. Besides that, she is one of the nation's most reliable authorities on the gas business. She knows her job. She knew it thoroughly long before she got her present title and salary.

Simple story, isn't it? So simple that all amibtious girls may understand it bombing to employes of other mines of the company.

Detectives said the fact that the serial numbers were almost identical indicated they came from the same bank and apparently were a part of the same original shipment to the seven mines of the Pittsburgh Terminal company.

While the five guards injured in the bombing were to view Jaworski and Stanley Medowski also held in the case, later in the day detectives said they expected to release Melowski for lack of evidence but would subject Jaworski to further grilling.

Dr. W. B. Harvey owner of the blue touring car in which the band made its getaway after the bombing today identified a book of driving instructions found by police in the home where Jaworski was arrested as the one he left in his car when it was stolen from him earlier in the week.

Dr. Harvey was positive the book found was his.

BIG LIBEL SUIT AGAINST FORD BEING STARTED

Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, has a wide following among midwestern farmers. He has organized innumerable cooperative marketing associations while not engaged in his legal practice. It was to defend his activities among the farmers, that he sued Ford.

Hundreds of witnesses already have been subpoenaed. Topping those called by Sapiro was the name of former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, frequently mentioned as a presidential possibility. Bernard M. Baruch, a national leader of the Democratic party, also has been summoned by Sapiro.

Ford meanwhile has summoned about 20 witnesses to prove his charges against Sapiro. They include wealthy farmers and politicians from the midwest and far west.

The case will deal entirely with the activities of farmers. Sapiro, however, has charged that Ford termed him the "leader of a Jewish conspiracy" in one of the articles. This Ford has denied, saying the word "conspiracy" was never mentioned and that the word "Jewish" is not libelous. The jury will be composed chiefly of farmers, as the panel has been filled with the names of agriculturalists in the eastern half of Michigan. The trial may last a month.

The libel suit grew out of a series of articles in Ford's Dearborn Independent which charged Sapiro, who has organized hundred of farmers cooperative associations, as a part of an international Jewish conspiracy. His attorneys cited one article, which read: "The Sapiro cooperative plan is merely a scheme by which the international banking ring may come into control of the agricultural wealth of the United States and exploit the farmers." Because of this charge, Sapiro's attorneys sought to show that Ford has so attacked the Jews as to give the word "Jewish" a "sinister meaning."

DETROIT, March 14.—Henry Ford won the first round today in the $1,000,000 libel suit brought against him by Aaron Sapiro, Chicago attorney when Federal Judge Fred S. Raymond refused to allow the plaintiff to amend his complaint against the multi-millionaire auto king.

Attorneys for Sapiro sought to bring Ford's repeated attacks on Jews directly into the case.

The court denied this move but declared his ruling would not involve the presentation of evidence. This gave Sapiro a loophole through which he can introduce Ford's attacks on the Jews.

power and new wave-lengths assumed by older stations since that time is questioned by the commission.

Radio listeners are demanding that steps be taken so that the entertainment formerly furnished by some of the foreign stations again be made available. Excellent programs are put on the air nightly by the string of stations operated by the Canadian National Railroads—the "CNR" group, by the Montreal Star, the Cuban Telephone Company, PWX of Havana, 6KW of Tuinicu, Cuba, while possessors of the better sets occasionally tune in on the Mexico City stations.

Wave-lengths of most of these stations have been occupied by American broadcasters in the last six months.

Pneumonia

A GREAT many cases of this dread disease develop from neglected colds. That's why medical science says: "To avoid a big cold, stop a little one."

For checking all colds promptly, the following approved treatment has been found effective in millions of cases: (1) A day's rest. (2) A laxative. (3) A light diet. (4) Vicks rubbed on throat and chest. Vicks medicated vapors, released by the body heat, are inhaled direct to the air passages; at the same time Vicks acts like a poultice, drawing out the soreness and pain. Use this treatment at the first sign of every little cold and big colds will be almost unknown to you

ENCOURAGING

PRACTICAL results are already being produced by President Coolidge's suggestion for a three-power naval disarmament conference, the British government volunteering to postpone contemplated warship construction pending the outcome of the conference.

So far as the United States is concerned, it makes little practical difference that France and Italy have declined invitations to co-operate in further disarmament effort. Neither of them is in any sense a naval rival of this nation, and, what is of even more importance, neither of them will find it easy to raise money for the luxury of enormous cruiser, destroyer and submarine fleets.

Americans concede the danger to Great Britain of drastically limiting her naval strength without consideration of the present and future strength of other European powers. But the encouraging announcement of the British admiralty that is will build no ships immediately shows that anxiety over French policy is not uppermost in London.

If the proposed conference accomplishes nothing more, it will force the several powers to show the size of their hand and to produce convincing arguments why they should not halt naval construction or scrap a fraction of their present navies. Disarmament advocates consider it a step forward that the "big navy" men in all countries have been placed on the defensive, for the advantage is ever with the offensive.

CHANGING APPETITES

YEARS ago the principal source of income to the sheep herdsman in this country was derived from wool. That was before Americans had acquired or cultivated a taste for mutton and lamb.

Some decades ago sheep raising to supply the wool market was one of the most extensive branches of agriculture even in such Eastern states as New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio. But the post-war slump in wool so depressed the industry that whole herds of sheep were slaughtered and their pastures turned over to dairy cattle or placed under cultivation where sufficiently fertile.

Seeing greater stability ahead in the sheep industry, the department of agriculture at Washington predicts increasing prosperity for the sheep raisers. This roseate view is inspired chiefly by growing demand for lamb and mutton on the American dinner table.

Though roast lamb and lamb and mutton chops are more to the American taste than formerly, they are not so generally in demand here as in England, or, for that matter, in Canada. They are as frequently on the British menu as pork is in the United States.

This difference in carnivorous appetites is due, in part, to the fact that American sheep are raised for their wool first and their meat afterward, while in England certain ovine species are raised for their meat alone. And then the British epicure wants his mutton a relatively short period on the hoof and a relatively long time in the refrigerator. As a result he gets his lamb roast and mutton chops more palatable and tender than they are served in America.

If the American sheep raiser, with the aid of the department of agriculture, can produce a better mutton chop a use will have been found for millions of acres of land fit for grazing and nothing else.

THE PRESIDENT GOES WEST

ONE old heretofore unviolated American tradition is to be broken, and by none other than that arch conservative, Calvin Coolidge.

He has already announced his intention to establish his "summer white house" somewhere in the West where it will be comfortably cool, the elevation healthful and the distance from Washington not too great in case of emergency.

If he carries out his plan, he will be the first chief executive to "go West" for those warm months which are to both president and public a welcome vacation from politics.

Yes, the Coolidges will spend their summer vacation "way out West." And upon that word a thousand rumors will hang and as many speculations will depend. Politics will march with the president on his precedent-establishing trek across the Alleghenies and will abide wherever he may pitch his tent.

Though Mr. Coolidge made it known last fall that he would spend his 1927 vacation in the West, the hunt for political reasons has led the "pack" right to the door of the vetoed McNary-Haugen bill. The projected trip is seen as a drive for the "winning of the West," as an invasion of the enemy's country to conquer anew any territory lost to the president in the long fight on farm aid.

Obviously, there can be no connection between a "summer white house" in the West and the lost farm-aid cause, but a vacation in the West must politically benefit the president the more because of his farm-aid veto. As their "new neighbor," the president will have a chance to make friends with the folks in the corn and wheat belts where the best known are the best liked. Certainly, his visit cannot add anything to the terrifying portrait painted of him by dirt-farmer politicians for their constituents.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:06. Sun rises tomorrow 6:12.

An East Side man claims that the trouble with a lot of folks today is that they are so set in their ways they won't listen to both sides of anything but a phonograph. There's a lot of truth in that, and it is one reason why it is so hard for the town to get together on matters that would be af mutual advantage.

Another of those scientists joyously announces that from one ton of straw he can extract $250 worth of by-products. Yes, and the ocean contains gold enough and salt enough to make everybody rich, but that doesn't pay taxes.

Quite a few babies were born on the Hints and Dint's man's birthday last Saturday, March 12. Proof of birth must be sent to this office within ten days if the prize is wanted. Let there be no delay. Come in and get the five in gold for the kiddies.

A village is a place where the banker seems embarrassed and apologetic when he says "no".

New insect pests that menace American argiculture are the oriental peach moth, Japanese beetle, Asiatic beetle, twilight beetle, apple skeletonizer, European corn borer, bean leaf beetle and European earwig. A terrible array, it must be admitted, but, alas, none of them will prey upon the rhubarb plant.

If you contemplate suicide, says a middle western psychologist, the thing to do is to read the books of Charles Dickens. No formula works all the time, but this sounds as good as any. Reading Dickens always puts us to sleep, and it is next to impossible to commit suicide while one is asleep.

A writer holds that if a man has a cow, some chickens and a garden, he should be content. He won't. The truth is that, when a normal man gets those, he wants a herd, a chicken farm and a farm.

At Lock Haven, Pa., a woman was yesterday sworn in as alderman. Women holding most all kinds of offices now. In fact, the only job we haven't heard of a woman holding down is that of garbage collector. It must be a lot of satisfaction to the garbage man to feel that his job is secure.

The state of Illinois has just sentenced a husband to jail for five years for being married to two women at once. He went to the penitentiary with a smile. He needed the rest.

Former Mayor Oles of Youngstown and former Mayor Rentz of New Castle met on the golf links at Miami, Fla., and had their pictures taken. George had on his golf suit and a golf club in one hand. Rentz wore a business suit. Both got their business start in New Castle. Although Rentz, a publisher, had a newspaper in one hand, Oles was not waving a banana.—Sent in from somewhere.

The Ohio legislature is about the same as others. It passed four bills to which there was no objection before it had been in session two full months.

A film showing the Reichstag in an uproar has been suppressed in Germany. One of the reasons is that it makes the participants look ridiculous. Why wouldn't it be well to take a lesson from this and keep a movie man in both houses of Congress to record some of the actions of our bellicose near-statemsen. It would be well worth showing at campaign time when the men are prancing up and down their territories telling what they have done and have not done.

NICE LETTER

St. Petersburg, Fla.,
March 4, 1927.

Mr. Fred Rentz,
Publisher News,
New Castle, Pa.

Dear Fred:—Excitement charged the air in the lobby of The Suwannee hotel this morning when copies of The News reached the New Castle colony and your very interesting letter of your experiences in the South were read. Attorney Walter Reynolds read the lines of your story and held the listeners spellbound. Fred, your powers of description even attracted tourists from other states who happened to hear Attorney Reynolds read your letter.

We all miss your smiling face. In fact, it has been rather tame and quiet since your departure. Even the elements mourned your absence, as it rained all of the following day you left for Orlando.

The dance halls and cafeterias have lost their charm since you left St. Pete. Your winning smile and modest ways won you a warm spot in the hearts of those you met. Your picture with former Mayor G. L. Oles, of Youngstown fame, meeting in common on the golf greens of Miami, despite you carried a newspaper and did not wear a golfer's attire, failed to depreciate the value of your social and journalistic standing while here. Fred, your appearance at the Rotary meeting in a Lutheran church at St. Pete, where your searching eyes espied a veteran friend from dear old Franklin, Pa., and your minute speech at the St. Pete Chamber of Commerce banquet, where two railroad presidents and an ex-kleagle of the Klan spoke, made the name of Fred Rentz of New Castle, Pa., immortalized in Dixie.

As much as you depiere the extras sent by Youngstown's newspapers, with screaming headlines, all about the "Lawrence County Scandal", to New Castle, you proved a loyal friend to me at St. Pete. Despite the stories of murder and scandal I have been forced to write about my good friend's community, I feel that had I missed seeing you in St. Pete I would have missed one of the most enjoyable events of my first trip into the Everglades. Please remember me to Mrs. Rentz and also the officers of New Castle Consistory.

Yours for scoops,
CHARLES B. CARSON.

There is no such thing as a good man gone wrong. It's just a bad man found out.

In view of the many fist fights which took place among its members, the Congress just expiring might just as well go down in history as the fighting 69th.

A Baltimore man takes the head of the class by saying that his wife has spent $50,000 trying to reduce. She succeeded as far as the bank roll was concerned.

The shooting of a Buffalo man by automobile thieves from whom he was trying to save the car makes us believe all the more firmly that such rascals need some of the discouragement formerly handed out to horse thieves.

We wonder why the politicians try to emulate Washington so in keeping others out of the Presidency when the people may want them. Washington is distinguished quite a little as the man who never told a lie, but we don't hear of any politicians taking a pattern after that.

That man who has invented a mirror and a vanity box to be attached by brackets to a typewriter fills a long-felt want.

Newspapers carry a story that the Socialists are trying to raise a quarter of a million dollars for a broadcasting scheme. But a quarter of a million dollars comes close to capitalism.

We understand that the champion coffee drinker who downed 86 cups in a little over seven hours is looking for a wife, but what woman wants to spend the rest of her life making coffee?

In a Kansas court recently an attempt was made to fix responsibility for an accident involving two cars, one driven by a woman, the other by a man, each of whom blames the other. "I held out my hand", declared the lady. "I didn't see it", replied the man. "You would if it had been my leg", retorted the dame. That last remark arouses our interest. Driving in Kansas must be anything but a tedious occupation if the women alternate the fashion of giving signals.

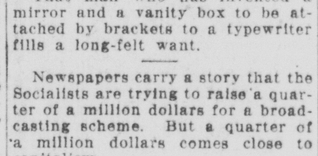

A common cold has made many a man develop into a common scold.

It isn't difficult to understand the popularity of the heavier shoes the girls are wearing. Many of them elect to walk back.

By a new process steel has been made so hard that a saw manufactured from it can cut through the neck of a bottle. Interesting from an academic standpoint, but why discard the simple process of the corkscrew?

Scotch distillers report decrease in the 1926 production of 10,619,900 gallons of their favorite beverages. This doesn't sound like a very good argument for those who say that more Scotch than ever is being drunk.

This is the time of year that dirty knuckles become the bane of every mother. And, of course, the little tads are only playing for the fun of it.

Weaklings had a better chance in the old days. They could hide a trembling mouth behind whiskers.

Various reasons are advanced for the suicides among the high school and college students. We would suggest that a little more application of the rod at home in earlier days would help some.

An ideal wife is one who is content to run just one life.

It is hard to tell which side in China is respectable until after the battle.

What Mr. McAdoo really needs is an issue instead of a boil.

Alas! Modesty is the state that exists before you know there is such a thing as modesty.

The proper way to judge a man is to get his opinion of the expression, "a young man of forty".

You'll notice, also, that Mr. Rickard is eliminating a lot of loose money from a circulation.

Free will may be possible, but surely he is a rare man who deliberately decided to be the kind of ass he is.

"Push, Pa." "I'm All Right."
Not too High Hat.
It Always Fails.
Beer at Cost—In Canada.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, By N. Y. American, Inc.

After struggling bravely against paralysis of the lungs, for 108 hours, young Albert Frick died. No braver, more pitiful death could be imagined.

More than 50 of the youth's friends had taken turns pressing on his diaphragm to repel air from the lungs, releasing the pressure quickly, that air might enter, doing the work of paralyzed nerves and muscles.

When the work was not done in quite the right way, the boy would look up into the face of his unhappy father and say, "Push, Pa." Then the father would show how the work should be done.

You can imagine that father's struggle to keep back the tears that would have discouraged his boy, whose dying words were "I'm all right." If there were no heaven, no future hope, for such a son, no hope that the father may meet his boy, this life would be a ghastly mockery, and the ruler of the universe, cruel omnipotence.

We are angry in America because there was looting at Wuhu, China, and some American property is missing. Our minister at Peking tells our consul general at Hankow not to get excited about it. That's right, but let us not be as little boys say, "to high hat", in our attitude. We have occasionally looted stores of Chinese gentlemen in the United States after beating up those Chinese.

Having demonstrated that we cannot control our own mobs, interested in lynching or looting, let us be reasonably patient with China in her troubles.

In all history this method has never failed. So says Ghandi, Hindu patriot, who believes that he can free India by teaching natives to make cloth by hand, by starving himself as a good example, and by inciting the masses to passive disobedience.

That such a method has never failed happens to be the reverse of truth. Such a method has never succeeded.

The whole Ghandi plan is negative and produces no results. Positive action counts.

Look at the French revolution, the American revolution, Cromwell's performance in England.

A British official, asked what weapon he had against Ghandi "mass disobedience," replied, "machine guns." That, unfortunately, is a sufficient answer.

The new liquor law in Canada, considering beer "the workmen's beverage," will insist on the best quality beer only. The Ontario government thinks the workers are entitled to it.

So beer will be sold to workmen at cost, no profit made by the government.

But plenty of profit will be made on the whisky, especially that sold to American tourists, who are expected to leave at least $60,000,000 each year in Canada.

Teaching millions of men to make war is dangerous, as shown by free use of the "automatic" when the war ended. Pittsburgh supplies a case of war-like banditry well organized. The Terminal Coal company sent its $200,000 payroll in an armored car, which passed over a mine hidden in the road by bandits. The mine exploded, sending the armored car into the air, the bandits got $100,000 and escaped.

Five men in the armored car were dangerously hurt. All telephone wires in the neighborhood had been cut—a very complete job.

Mexico, it is said, will amend her oil laws "to appease the United States."

That's the way to go about it. To appease Old Fafner in "the Rhinegold," put more gold under him. To please this high spirited financial government, don't interfere with profits of its corporation children. If you do that you touch the most sensitive spot on the most sensitive nerve of our national nervous system.

It is dangerous to trifle with a large dragon when it's excited, and Russia knows it, having meddled in the affairs of China, now in a state of eruption. Russia's steamer Pamia Lenina was seized by Chinese. Passengers and crew, including important Russians and their wives are held, and it has been announced that all but one will be executed.

Russia wants to know why. Russia should know that when great masses of population get excited somebody is sure to be executed.

Ask the remaining fragments of the Romanoffs.

Hubert T. Parson, president of the Woolworth company, who deals, through his stores, with millions of Americans, predicts that this spring's business generally will be the biggest in the history of the United States. That should comfort the pessimists.

In Day's News

"Noblesse Oblige" may be an out-of-date motto, but it is still held sacred by a certain few of the British aristocracy. And Lady Aberdeen, who is 70 years old today, affords an excellent example of what some wicked wag styled "a Countess with a conscience". She has been twice vice-queen in Ireland and once in Canada, but to the general public this energetic woman is best known as an authoress, lecturer, philanthropist, and for many years president of the International Council of Women. Lady Aberdeen is a woman of high mental attainments and much individuality. She is well known to many Americans by reason of her residence in Canada and numerous visits to the United States, where she has spoken from the platform in behalf of temperance and other social reforms. The Earl Of Aberdeen, to whom she was married just 50 years ago, is one of the few surviving intimate friends of the late William E. Gladstone.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

THE BIGGEST CITIES

Once more we have to revise our list as to the greatest cities of the United States.

New York is still ahead, but the subsequent list has been somewhat changed.

The press gives the eight largest cities of the United States as stated below with their gain in percent of population. They are as follows:

| | 1927 Population | Gain |
|---|---|---|
| New York | 6,322,554 | 12.5 |
| Chicago | 3,151,989 | 16.7 |
| Philadelphia | 2,051,751 | 12.5 |
| Detroit | 1,430,896 | 44.0 |
| Los Angeles | 1,268,680 | 120.0 |
| Cleveland | 996,051 | 25.0 |
| Boston | 860,269 | 15.0 |
| St. Louis | 834,729 | 8.0 |

It will be seen from this that the star of the empire is still taking its course westward. The most remarkable rise given in population has been that of Los Angeles. Detroit has also come to the front.

Some of us can remember when there was a lively competition between St. Louis and Chicago, but Chicago has now far outstripped its Southern rival in growth.

The growth of large cities seems to be like a snow ball, the larger they get the faster they grow.

It is not to be wondered at that Los Angeles has so increased its population as the weather there is favorable to work all the year round and the city seems to be up to the present time comparatively free from earthquakes.

Southern California is growing very rapidly, not only due to its equable climate, but to the fact that it is favorable to all kinds of work.

The handicap of being far removed from the main portion of the United States is offset by the favorable conditions of the weather.

It will be noted from the above list that Los Angeles has passed Boston, Cleveland, St. Louis and Pittsburgh in the last six years. At this rate of growth it will pass Detroit in the next five years and be the fourth city of the nation.

Los Angeles is not made up of European immigrants, but mostly of mid-west stock, and is probably the most typical American city in the Union. Its growth is sturdy and promising.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

RED SNAPPERS.

Once upon a time there was a commuter on the railroad lines in and out of Pittsburgh. He took the 5:15 home every week day, including Saturday. Upon occasion he was expected by his family to bring provender for the household. He was not often entrusted with this task, because an accident of youth had deprived him of two quite essential senses. He could neither smell nor taste—not a good recommendation for a commissary man.

There being nothing in the family larder on a Saturday, his wife asked him if he would kindly bring home a fish for dinner that night, and she would make provision for the Sunday meal. He agreed, and that afternoon, in his rush for the train, he stopped at a well known fish market. The fish-monger had just received some red snappers. Now everyone who knows anything about a red snapper knows that the odor from it before it is cooked, is terrible. No spoiled fish could possible smell as bad as a red snapper, after it has been out of the water for an hour or two. It is also true, that there is no fish more palatable and pleasant smelling after it has been in the oven for a few minutes. Baked, a red snapper can hardly be beaten.

The fish-monger told the gentleman of these things, and said that he had no fish that he thought he would enjoy more. The result was that the gentleman being rather late for the 5:15 took the fish, and beat it for the train. He made the train all right, found the car crowded as usual, but sunk down into a discovered vacancy, satisfied he had performed all the duties to which he had been entrusted.

There was a great commotion on the car after the train had started. His seat companion deserted him immediately, and it was not long until he was absolutely alone in the car. He could not understand it; no one said anything. They just left. To his home, which was at the end of the run, he had an absolutely private car. There was some remarks made to him as he left the train by the brakeman, concerning the condition of the package he was carrying, but he paid little attention. On his way home, he met his father, an old gentleman who knew all about fish. Immediately the father said, "Son, what have you there?"

"Fish."

"Well it's spoiled. Throw it away."

The son explained that it was a red snapper, and was expected to give forth some unpleasant oder until it was cooked. "Oh, no," said the father, "that fish is ruined. Throw it away!"

The son persisted, and took it home, and after fifteen minutes in the oven the odor disappeared. The family enjoyed the fish, but the gentleman ever after told with great glee of the afternoon when he had a private car on the 5:15.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

W. H. R.

And we shall hear his voice no more
Who was so brave and clean and true.
We shall not hear upon the door
The friendly tap we knew.

It seems for such a little while
His presence made our joys complete.
Now we shall miss his gentle smile
When next we meet.

Sop happy was his parting word
"I'm all right now", he bravely said.
But in the night God's voice he heard
And home his spirit fled.

The pain is gone. He sleeps today
Beneath love's feeble gift of flowers.
"He's all right now!" we strive to say,
But, oh, what loss is ours!

One Year Ago

Nearly 350 persons were killed or injured in a train wreck at San Jose, Costa, Rica.

Among laymen there is a growing suspicion that high clergymen eliminated hell from the future before they did on earth.

You have to belong to the reformer type before you can smile in that patient-mother way and call a good licking a moral victory.

POEMS I LOVE

BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"What Do I Love?" by James Oppenheim.

Mr. Oppenheim is the author of a poem which attracted a great deal of attention several years ago—too long to quote in this series. It was called "Monday Morning." Like most of his verse, it had a message of the under-dog for the over-lord. For my own part, I feel that poetry is always less poetry when it contains a sermon, no matter how hidden it may be in a tapestry of gorgeous words. Art does not necessarily inform and teach; but art must give us a sense of the beautiful: Oppenheim, in many of his free-verse forms, reveals noble gifts; and it is tragic that he has deserted his Muse almost entirely, and devoted himself to fiction.

What do I love?
I think this little pebble shining wet
Can speak to me. I think the little grasses
That drip sweet dew, can utter dear song for me.
I think the blue-winged bird in the bending bough
Could love me too, as I, as I love him.
I think that yonder sun could speak to me.
And that his heat is the strong heat of love.
O now I think that everything there is
Is more than I, yet like me—O is God.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT

For the "company" dinner nothing appeals quite so much as fried chicken. See that it is well seasoned, browned and well cooked. The acid in pineapple is said to be an aid to digestion and the pudding included in the menu is not common.

Fruit Cocktail Fried Chicken
Candied Sweet Potatoes
Fresh Green Peas Buttered
Cole Slaw Radishes
Hot Rolls, Butter
Pineapple Pudding with Whipped Cream
Tea

TODAY'S RECIPES

Candied Sweet Potatoes—Take pared cold boiled sweet potatoes, place in a baking dish, pour over one cup and a half of maple syrup, dot with bits of butter, put in the oven, turn occasionally until potatoes are candied.

Pineapple Pudding—Slice fruit and fill pan half full. Sprinkle with one-fourth of a cup of sugar and pour in one-fourth of a cup of water. Make a batter out of one-half cup of sugar, one-fourth of a cup of butter and lard mixed, half a cup of sweet milk, one cup of flour with one heaping teaspoon of baking powder sifted in. Stir all together and spread over fruit. Bake or steam until done, about 30 minutes. Serve with whipped cream or any sauce preferred.

Don't wear out your old high-heeled party slippers doing housework. To do your work comfortably you should wear comfortable, sensible shoes. You will notice the difference in your feelings at the close of a busy day.

SUGGESTIONS
Important Trifles

It is economy to mend clothes before sending them to the laundry.

When hemming linens that are to be finished on the edge with lace, turn up the edge on the right side and place the lace on top of that. In this way the piece will be just as neat on the wrong side as the right.

Watch Border For Pittsburgh Bandit Gang

Believe Men In Payroll Hold-Up Are On Way To Canada

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, March 14.—Police today spread by telegrams a network of guards along the international boundary reaching from Detroit to Erie in an effort to apprehend a gang believed to be the one responsible for the bombing and robbery of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal company armored pay car near here Friday, in which five guards were injured and $104,000 taken.

Police in Detroit, Erie, Buffalo and several Canadian cities were notified to be on the lookout for five men believed to have fled this vicinity Saturday night after police arrested two suspects in the case.

Detroit police especially were asked to be on the lookout for the suspects, authorities here believing the gang was headed for the Michigan city after Paul Jaworski of Detroit was taken into custody. He is to face the guards of the dynamited payroll car today in an effort to identify him.

A second suspect arrested with him was released, while Joseph Glovck was arrested later at the Washington county farmhouse where the first arrests were made.

Groundhog Meets Doom! Comes Out To Early

Spring is here to stay, at least so far as the groundhog is concerned.

For the groundhog, attracted by the fine summer weather we have been having the last few days, is out to stay. At least the one that fell into the jaws of J. B. Syling's famous Airedale dog, "Bingo", last Friday will stay out.

Evidently six weeks was too long for this groundhog, for the traditional six weeks will not be up until tomorrow. But it would have been a little better for Mr. Groundhog in this instance if he had stayed the six weeks out, or rather in.

On the morning of last Friday, March 11, William Smith, a prominent farmer of Slippery Rock township, hearing a strange dog barking in the woods nearby, hastily grabbed a gun and ran to see what was up. He found that it was a groundhog that was up and up in a tree, for there sat the dog barking at a large groundhog which had sought shelter in the topmost bough of a small tree.

Laying down his gun, Mr. Smith proceeded to shake Mr. Groundhog from the tree, and he fell right into the open jaws of "Bingo", who was standing on guard below. "Bingo" seized him by the cuff of the neck and trotted off home with his prize, and that was the end of the groundhog that came out too soon.

Managers Of Almira Home Thankful For Help From Butler

Mrs. J. A. Shiner, Chairman Of Donation Committee, Writes Letter To Supporters

Mrs. J. A. Shiner, chairman of the donations committee and a trustee of the Almira Home association at New Castle, has, in a letter to the Butler Eagle, expressed appreciation for various gifts and donations to the home sent by various organizations and individuals of Butler county. In her letter she said she wanted Butler countians to know that affairs at the Almira home are prospering and that those in charge of the home appreciate and are grateful to all those who sent gifts and donations to the home.

In speaking of the work of the last year Mrs. Shiner mentioned that an outstanding gift to the home was a new driveway, which represents a gift worth $1,000.

Sixteen persons from Butler county have been received at the Almira home. Six of these are being cared for at the home at the present time. To date there have been 98 aged women at the home who have died. There are 43 being cared for at the home now. Applications may be sent to the home at any time, as the home is in a position to receive deserving persons.

Mentioning gifts from Butler county persons, Mrs. Shiner, in her letter, said that the Second U. P. church of this city had sent a barrel of fruit and jellies and that the Jacksville W. C. T. U. had adopted a room on the first floor. Slippery Rock State Normal students also sent donations. W. C. T. U's. in five counties are now working to raise $1,000 to endow a parlor at the home. Each county is to raise $200, paying $40 each year for five years. The Venango county W. C. T. U. has paid its quota in full.

Twenty-three rooms at the home have been adopted, and when these are not kept up the expense must be paid by the home. There are 14 rooms that have neither been endowed nor adopted.

Mentioning various activities in New Castle, and naming several new buildings erected, Mrs. Shiner said that she feels certain that soon someone will make it possible for a new building to be erected for aged women on the grounds of the Almira home.

Butler county trustees of Almira home include Mrs. J. V. Ritts, Mrs. T. W. Phillips ,Mrs. Sarah Hoover, Mrs. C. N. Boyd, Mrs. T. C. Campbell, Miss Belle Lowry of Butler; Mrs. S. C. Wright of Zelienople, Mrs. James McConnell, Mrs. H. E. Heberling, Mrs. S. H. Cheeseman and Miss Martha Whitten of Slippery Rock.

Penna. Lady Gets Relief After Five Years Of Rheumatism

Was So Bad At Time She Couldn't Even Walk Or Raise Her Arms. Gained Complete Relief After Taking Dreco For Six Weeks.

S. P. Thorp, the Dreco man, will gladly explain the merits of Dreco to all callers at Eckerd's Cut Rate Store. Free samples given.

"For over five years I suffered so with rheumatism that every joint and muscle in my body ached," says Mrs. Martha Krantz, 2408 Larkyns Way, South Side, Pittsburg, Pa.

"I was unable to do any of my housework and for months at a time was not able to help myself around. At such times I couldn't walk or even raise my arms to my head. I had to be helped from my bed six or seven times a night to relieve my kidneys. Losing so much sleep made me nervous and cross and even a chair scraping across the floor would irritate me.

"I was always constipated and had a stale taste in my mouth and a coated tongue. I was subject to severe headaches and suffered so with my stomach I lost all appetite for food, which made me lose lots of weight. Believe me, I was a very sick woman and I didn't believe there was a thing in the world that would help me.

"Then I learned of Dreco and in six weeks this wonderful remedy has made me completely well. I'm enjoying my meals better than I have in years and never had the least trouble with indigestion or constipation afterwards. The headaches have vanished entirely, I can sleep soundly all night thru, and my body is as free from rheumatism as any baby's. I can almost cry for joy now that Dreco has made me well and I recommend it to everyone I meet."

Mr. S. P. Thorp, the well-known Expert from the Dreco Laboratories now at Eckerd's Cut Rate Store, is telling scores of people every day how to take Dreco for best results. Go to see him. His advice is free.

Sewer Building May Interfere With Mail Man

W. C. H. Matthews, rural mail carrier in the West Washington extension district, where it is planned to start construction in the near future of a sewer, says that some especial arrangements will have to be made by residents of the street for mail service.

He believes that it will be possible to have all of the mail boxes placed on one side of the street during the time that the sewer is being constructed, and thus continue service. He suggests that rural mail patrons on the street to be affected, take the matter up with him, so that arrangements can be made for continuing the service during the time the street is torn up.

Legislators Please Penn State Students

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., March 14—Students at the Pennsylvania State College are still enthusiastic over the encouraging statements of members of the House of Representatives appropriations committee made upon the occasion of their recent visit of inspection to the college when over 2000 undergraduates welcomed them at a meeting in the college auditorum.

Each of the five committeemen who addressed the students favored all possible financial aid for the college from the state, and remarked upon the present condition of the physical plant which has been neglected in the necessity for faculty maintenance during recent "lean" appropriation years.

The words of Speaker Thomas Bluett and others declaring their admiration for the college and its work and recognizing Penn State as "the true child of the Commonwealth," brought applause from students who today are hopeful that the college faces a more encouraging future.

Name Boys, Girls For National Camp

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., March 14—Four Pennsylvania 4-H club members will attend the first National club camp at Washington, D. C., June 16 to 23, Allen L. Baker, state club leader of the Pennsylvania State College, reported today. Each state in the Union is invited to send two outstanding boys and two leading girls to this meet which will be devoted to leadership training, understanding of club objectives, citizenship training, and recreation. James Loudenslager, Liberty, Lycoming county; Walter Straw, Clearfield; Katharine Wheeler, Muhlenberg, Luzerne county, and Grace Thomas, Aldenville, Wayne county, are the Pennsylvania representatives.

Loudenslager is 19 years old. He has been a member of a disease-free potato club for three years—last year on the acre basis. He won first prize the first two years and second last year. County Agent W. H. VanSant reports that his work had an important influence in persuading his home community to spray and use disease-free seed. Also a disease-free potato club member for three years, Walter Straw has helped to establish the practice of using disease-free seed in his community. He is 18 years old.

Katherine Wheeler, 16 years old, finished three years of clothing club work last year which entitled her to a college gold seal. This year she is a member of a food selection and preparation club.

Grace Thomas will complete three years of clothing club work this year. The residents of her home community were so pleased with the results shown by this 18 year-old girl that they bought the girls of the club a new sewing machine.

Pet Groundhog Comes Our For First Time On Sunday Afternoon

Spring is just around the corner if Snookums can be believed: Snookums being the pet groundhog of Scott McCaslin, who resides at East Washington and Ray streets.

Snookums awakened from his nap yesterday and after crawling from his winter home which he burrowed beneath the McCaslin home where he has slept since last fall.

"I've been reading all about these groundhogs having come from their holes but my pet groundhog didn't make his appearance until Sunday afternoon," said McCaslin.

"He emerged from his winter residence, shook his body once or twice and commenced scampering around the yard as though in search of something to appease his appetite."

McCaslin then described how he secured a bunch of lettuce leaves and a bowl of bread and milk which he sat in the yard and the groundhog exhibited a ravenous appetite.

After he had partaken of his first meal since he drifted to sleep last fall the groundhog returned to his winter headquarters and from now on is expected to appear daily.

According to McCaslin, he caught the groundhog last summer when it was a baby groundhog. He took it home where it became a pet and plays with the children living in the district.

NO CHANGE ON ELECTION BILLS SAYS GOVERNOR

By WILLIAM B. BROWN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 4.—"Nothing has happened in the past week to change in any way my attitude on the administration election bills," Governor John S. Fisher asserted today. The governor also expressed himself as favoring state maintenance of primary routes which pass through cities.

W. L. Mellon, Republican state chairman, in an interview here last night said that a "reasonable attitude," must be adopted toward the election bills and indicated that amendments might be acceptable to the leaders.

In the absence of Mellon, the governor refused to discuss the latter's statement but reiterated his stand of demanding action on the floor for all the administration bills. He refused to indicate what position he will take should any of the bills be so amended as to render them worthless in the eyes of election reform advocates.

Movie Stars' Children Make Early Film Debut

Playing at acting may satisfy youngsters who have never seen the inside of a movie studio, but the children of Hollywood's stars insist on the real thing. When other youngsters are teasing parents to permit them to dress in cast-off garments, these precocious young folk beg their mothers and fathers to get them "bits" in pictures.

For five or more years attempts have been made to get the consent of actors and actresses to permit their offsprings to appear in a picture with a cast composed solely of children of famous screen players. Madeline Brandeis, feminine producer, has succeeded and has completed the first of a series of films which she hopes to make. Different groups of juvenile actors will be used in each production.

The first of the "Children of the Stars" two-reel comedies is called, "Young Hollywood." Tim Holt, Jack's son, is a member of the cast and also Billy Reid son of the late Wallace Reid, who hopes some day to "carry on" in pictures.

One of the feminine "stars" is impish little Aileen O'Malley, as Irish as her father, Pat. Erich Von Stroheim's son, Erich, Jr.; D'Arcy McCoy, Col. Tim McCoy's son; Reginald Denny's daughter; Barbara Mary Desmond, daughter of William Desmond, and Hobart Bosworth's son, George, complete the cast.

CLARION CAT IS OPERATED UPON

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, March 14.—The modern flapper, "by her life, dress and manner, is responsible for approaches, advances and insults," says Rev. Dr. Percival H. Barker, Pittsburgh minister. The minister warns young girls who come here from smaller communities seeking work that the pitfalls of a big city loom large for those who aspire to be ultra-flapperish in dress.

CLARION — As carefully attended as most persons recovering from operations is a large cat belonging to Sam Cherico here. The cat underwent an operation for a growth in her side in which anesthetic was administered in the approved style.

Church Is Afire But Congregation Unaware

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Mar. 14.—While 500 members of St. Johns Lutheran church at Nanticoke listened attentively to a sermon of the pastor, Rev. J. J. Neudoerfer, recently, firemen battled a blaze that threatened the edifice with destruction, it was learned today. Realizing that an outcry might bring a stampede, Rev. Mr. Neudoerfer continued the usual service while his wife and the janitor called the fire company a block away, no alarm was sounded nor was the engine brought out so that there would be no excitement.

The firemen carried hose, axes, chemicals and ladders to the scene. While only a thin partition separated them, not one member of the congregation knew of the fire. Even when they left they were without the knowledge, the first information coming in the papers later.

Auto Collision Causes Probe

Fireman Is Called Before Mayor To Explain Part In East Side Incident

An investigation is under way today by the police of an alleged interference with officers on East Washington street last night, as a result of which an alleged drunken automobile driver, said to be from Woodlawn, made his escape.

The incident occurred between Hazel and Vogan streets. According to the police report, a man with two small children in his car, while driving west on Washington street attempted to pass betwen a car parked at the side of the street and a street car operated by P. G. Hess. There was a wreck as a result, although no serious damage is said to have been done.

Following the accident the street car operator and others attempted to keep the driver of the car, whom they suspected of being under the influence of liquor, pending the arrival of the city police, who had been summoned.

It was claimed in the police report that before the police arrived Hugh Horton, city fireman, came along and ordered the man to drive on, being alleged to have shown his fireman's badge as an evidence of authority.

Mr. Horton was called in before the mayor this morning and he put a different light on the matter. He claimed that he was in the traffic jam and went up to see what was the matter. On arriving at the scene he showed his badge, he said, in an effort to assist those on the scene, but was misunderstood and the matter reported otherwise. He denies that he directed the man to drive on. He said he did have him drive to one side to release traffic.

Eight Pound Chicken Lays Three Freak Eggs

An egg is an egg, but who would have thought the freaks, Mikael Fontonella of Clinton, Pa., brought to the New's office today were such. Mikael has an eight pound White Wyandotte chicken that decided to do some unusual laying, and it did. Friday, Saturday and Sunday this eight pounder laid an egg each day, and every egg was more freakish than the one before it.

The first one was round, a little larger than a good sized marble; the second long, just like the candy covered almonds dad used to bring home, and the third was a combination of egg, snail, worm, and corn borer. It is three inches long, half an inch through, and twisted.

Jack Dempsey May Undergo Operation

(International News Service)

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Mar. 14.—Jack Dempsey's decision as to whether or not he will submit to the surgeon's knife, as advised by several eminent specialists, will be made at the end of three months of light training for the prize ring, the former heavyweight champion indicated today.

"I suffered an injury to the lower part of my back about six years ago and it has never entirely healed," Dempsey said. "My doctors have advised an operation but I have decided to go into light training for three months and see if I cannot get into condition without going under the knife.

"If, at the end of the three months, my condition is such that the operation is absolutely necessary before I can re-enter the ring, then I will probably submit to it. But I don't think it will be necessary."

Keep Up Search For Missing Girl

Fifteen-Year-Old New York Girl Missing Since Last Wednesday

POLICE BELIEVE SHE IS HIDING

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, March 14.—While the police of our states today continued their search for 15-year-old Mary Cabell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hartwell Cabell, prominet New York and Virginia family who has been mysteriously missing since last Wednesday, the police were confident that she remained in New York city, possibly living under an assumed name.

The police hunt spreads from New York to Dallas, Texas and from New Canaan, Conn., to Virginia Beach, Va.

"We are waiting for word from police of those places. Meanwhile we are leaving no stone unturned in our eforts to find the girl here," Police Captain Ayres said today.

Miss Sabell is a student at a fashionable school here and a relative of James Branch Cabell, the novelist.

The theory that she may be living in New York nder an assumed name was advanced when it was learned that Miss Cabell for about a week before she left she had been writing a fictitious name in her school copy book. It was written always the same, "Charlotte Blake" in different styles of handwriting and was done laboriously, over and over again, as if she wanted to accustom herself to writing it.

Police believe that she has hired a room under that name where she might sorrow by herself for her dead brother Lieut. P. F. Cabell of the army air service who was killed in Texas February 15.

Police are also considering the theory that Mary may have taken her life in a state of extreme melancholia. But this Cabell himself steadfastly refuses to believe.

HANDS WHICH KEPT FRICK ALIVE BEAR LAD TO HIS GRAVE

CHICAGO, March 14.—The 56 loyal friends who spent five days last week in a vain effort to save the ebbing life of Albert Frick, 22-year-old paralysis victim who could not breathe, Sunday added their last full measure of devotion and bore his body to the grave.

Six of these men whose hands, for 108 hours, sustained the life of their dying comrade, today resumed their duty to be pallbearers for their fellow worker. The others attended the funeral.

Young Frick, whose fight for life against the dread paralysis of his diaphragm had attracted nation-wide attention, today was mourned not only by his comrades, but by hundreds of his townspeople who joined in the final tribute.

Five New Castle Boys Go Swimming In Neshannock Creek

Five New Castle boys braved the chilly waters of Neshannock creek on Sunday afternoon, March 13, and today they are laying claim to being the first local bathers of the season.

Swimming at this particular time of the year is taboo among many swimmers of the city, but the five boys concerned in this story failed to heed the traditions.

The boys who started the swimming season here yesterday are Frank Minskey, John Simison, Ted Miller, William Eagan and Clarence Campbell. The boys went for a walk up the creek on Sunday afternoon and Simison issued a challenge to go in swimming. The boys accepted and it was not long until they were splashing around. Just how long they splashed is not known. The boys are real proud of their record as the first swimmers of the season here in New Castle.

Yesterday was an exceptionally warm day for March 13.

New Illinois Law To Fight Corn Borer

(International News Service)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Mar. 14.—A new method of fighting the threatening European corn borer, now marching on 'Illinois' corn fields, after wreaking havoc in other states, is proposed in a bill now before both branches of the Illinois legislature. Sen. S. E. Lantz and Rep. C. M. Turner, chairmen of the Senate and House agriculture committees, introduced the measure.

Early passage of the measure is predicted by its sponsors.

Under this measure the state department of agriculture would be authorized to issue orders requiring farmers in any given area to cease certain farm practice and to inaugurate others, as deemed necessary by the agricultural department.

Such losses as farmers sustained through the regulations issued by the department would be reimbursed, under the provisions of the bill.

Both the state and federal departments of agriculture have voiced their approval of the bill.

Governor Jackson affixed his signature.

Its application is restricted to mentally unfit persons in insane hospitals, for whom physicians there hold forth no hope of recovery. Surgical operations contemplated in the measure would be performed by the medical staffs of these institutions, at the expense of the state.

Restoring "Off-Color" Teeth to Gleaming Whiteness
DENTAL science has discovered that one's teeth seldom are naturally "off color." Hence you can now restore them to dazzling clearness quickly. Can firm tender gums to healthy coral color.

Film also, by breeding germs, invites tooth decay, gum troubles and pyorrhea. Beneath it are those gleaming teeth you envy. Results are amazing when it's removed.

Woman Confesses Slaying Of Aged Father-in-Law

Common Law Husband Of Woman Slayer Is Held For Killing Step-Mother

FIND BODY OF MAN IN WELL

(International News Service)

McARTHUR, O., Mar. 14. — Revenge was the motive ascribed by county authorities here today to Mrs. Inez Palmer, 24, who, they say, has confessed to them that she murdered William Stout, wealthy aged farmer, and threw his body in a well.

Mrs. Palmer is held without bond in county jail, pending arraignment on a first degree murder charge, as a result of the finding of Stout's body, his head crushed, last Saturday night.

The woman told the officers that she struck Stout with a stick of cordwood, and then, concealing his body in the old abandoned well, reported to authorities that Stout had disappeared, and after telling her he "would never come back."

Meanwhile, as an additional motive, authorities pointed out that Arthur Stout, 33, common law husband of the woman, has been in jail for three months, awaiting trial scheduled this month, for the murder of his step-mother, the elder Stout's wife.

Husband Is Jailed

When Arthur Stout brought Mrs. Palmer here a year ago, from Moundsville, W. Va., and began living with her, Mrs. Sarah Stout, the step-mother, complained to authorities and caused Arthur Stout's arrest on a statutory charge. Shortly after Stout was released from jail, Mrs. Sarah Stout was found murdered in her home. The stepson was indicted for her murder.

The father, meanwhile, took up his residence at the farmhouse occupied by his son and Mrs. Palmer. He was to have been the state's chief witness against his son, and this, authorities believe, was the principal reason Mrs. Palmer killed him.

The woman told authorities that the aged farmer had made improper advances to her, in her confession of the killing.

IN PLAIN ENGLISH

The girl had evaded his persistent proposals of marriage with soft words intended to allay the hurt of her definite and inevitable refusal. Exasperated, he turned upon her.

"In plain English, will you marry me, or no?"

"Hell, no!" she replied.—American Legion Monthly.

It May Not Be Right, but Left Hand May Be Right Handy, Too

Mary Weiser left), by virtue of being left-handed has a job of testing lights which a right-handed person could not hold down. The picture shows why. Like Babe Ruth (right), she finds that being a "leftie" is no handicap in life.

LEFTHANDEDNESS — asset or liability?

Asset, would say Babe Ruth and other successful southpaws of the diamond whose position at the bat is credited with rattling most pitchers.

Asset, says Mary Weiser, New York girl. Her non-conformity with most of the rest of the human race has just given her a job others could not fill.

A corporation manufacturing electric lamps procured a machine which tests lamps at the rate of 30,000 a day. It required one person to sit at each side. Girls assigned to work one side were found to be slower than girls on the other side. Then the reason was discovered. One side must be fed with the left hand.

That was where Mary came in. And she showed that she could test more than her quota of globes.

Lefthandedness is generally considered a handicap. Mechanical contrivances are constructed for right-handed persons. Lefthanders must buy special golf clubs. Manipulation of knives and forks is twice as difficult for them.

Victor Hugo said: "The lefthanded are precious. They take places the others cannot." Few school boards believe that. Regardless of early inclinations, school pupils are generally taught to write with their right hands.

Lefthanded persons are at a disadvantage in a one-arm lunch room. They must operate their emergency automobile brakes with their weakest arm. In the army they must carry their guns on their weakest side. Some fashionable restaurants refuse to hire lefthanded waiters because their trays might crash with those of the righthanders in narrow passageways and because they might be awkward in serving the guest.

It might seem that southpaws are at a disadvantage.

But ask Babe Ruth or Mary Weiser before you make up your mind.

Old Landmark Being Remodelled As Service Station

One of the oldest land marks in the city is being changed by the remodeling of the old homestead at the corner of North Mill and East Falls street which is to be changed and occupied as a filling station and auto service station by D. Floyd Atwell.

The building will be considerably changed, a large door being placed in the side of the building next to the vacant lot on Falls street. This vacant lot will be used as the driveway for the filling station and several pumps will be installed.

It is reported that it will be used as a filling station for the Sinclair gasoline and be made the main station of the company in the district. Work is being rushed on the project and hope to have it remodeled for occupancy by April 1.

The lower floor of the building will be occupied by the auto service station with which Mr. Atwell is connected while the upper floor will be fitted for offices.

Two In Hospital With Knife Wounds

Cutting Affray Occurs In Home Street On Sunday Evening

Patsy Nero, aged 34, and his wife, Mrs. Julia Nero, aged 28, of 7½ West Home street, are in the New Castle hospital with severe knife wounds, alleged to have been inflicted by Fazis Gaetano of 11 West Home street, also known as Guy Taccio, about 8:45 o'clock last night in the Nero home. Both will recover.

Fazis Gaetano made his escape following the cutting and is still at large, although being sought by the police, who are said to have a number of clues as to his possible location.

According to the report at the police station a call was received from 7½ West Home street and Officers Samuels and Fleeger detailed. They reported back conditions as found, namely that two persons had been badly cut and Officers Dukes, James, Thomas, Golis and Logan were detailed.

Officers Samuels and Fleeger took the wounded persons to the hospital in the police car, where their wounds were dressed, while the other officers made a search for the man said to be responsible for the cutting.

Nero and Fazis Gaetano were having an argument, it is said, concerning a christening which had occurred three years previously, when the latter pulled out a knife and started for Nero. Mrs. Nero attempted to get the knife and in the scuffle that followed both she and her husband were badly wounded.

ALREADY MOPPED

Two stage hands were discussing vaudeville.

"I don't like those Apache dancing acts," said one, "where the guy drags the dame all over the place by the hair of her head."

Paderewski was given a ukulele in Honolulu. We hope he sticks to his piano a while longer, though.

LIFE OF CAT SAVED BY RUSH OPERATION UNDER ANESTHETIC

CLARION, Pa., March 14.—A large cat belonging to Sam Cherico was suddenly taken violently ill. After a consultation it was decided that puss either would have to undorgo an operation immediately or pass from this world.

Since the cat was well thought of by everyone, a move was made to take her to the Brookville hospital for an operation. She was rushed over there and, at nine o'clock, given an anesthetic and put to sleep while a growth was removed from her side. The incision required 14 stitches to close it. At 11 o'clock she was resting well and was brought back home. Today she was about and was eating her regular meals in a normal manner.

SCRANTON, Pa., Mar. 14. — A party described as " a dance in the nude" was just about to start one night recently in a hotel here when Superintendent of Police James Henshaw and a squad of bluecoats broke into the place and surprised a gathering of more than two hundred men. Three comely maidens and three male companions, said by the authorities to have been brought here from Philadelphia to "put on the show" were taken to police headquarters. After being questioned they were given one hour to get out of town.

When the police made the raid on the hotel there was a mad scramble of the all-male audience to get out but policemen blocked all exits. The spectators, however, were not arrested, but they bemoaned the fact that they had each lost a five dollar note which was the admission fee.

Police said the "dance in the nude" had been advertised through secret channels for the past ten days and that every man buying a ticket was told the women would appear Ala Eve. Joseph Stancheski, proprietor of the hotel was fined $100.

Unusual Reunion In Justice's Court

(International News Service)

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Mar. 14.—A hearing in a justice's court in Gettysburg brought together two men who had not seen each other for 35 years, one as judge and the other as the one to appear before the judge's bar for sentence. The two men, who as boys attended a little red country school house together, were Joseph U. Appler, a Gettysburg justice of the peace, and William P. Stoner, a Hanover real estate dealer. One of Stoner's employes had been arrested early this month for violating the state motor laws, and the employer was ordered to appear here to answer the charges of operating a motor vehicle without first securing Pennsylvania registration and operating a motor vehicle with license plates other than those issued for it.

As Stoner entered the Justice's court both men recognized each other and had a pleasant chat about boyhood days and school. But the law is stern and Justice Appler told the Hanover man that it was his unpleasant duty to fine him $10 for the first offense and $100 for the second, which with the costs totaled $118.

REMOVE MIRRORS FROM HALLWAYS OF HAZLETON SCHOOL

(International News Service)

HAZLETON, Pa., Mar. 14. — Mirrors have been removed from the halls of the city high school.

The faculty feels that success in mastering Greek or in handling a very abstruse trigometric problem does not depend on whether one's nose is shiny or that boyish bob curl is out of place.

Scholastic introspection is often disturbed on the march from class to class by such shocking discoveries.

DINNER STORIES

Come Prepared.

A negro preached walked into the office of a newspaper in Rockymount, N. C., and said: "Misto Edito', they is 43 of my congregation which subscribe fo' yo' paper. Do that entitle me to have a chu'ch notice in yo' Sadday issue?" "Sit down and write," said the editor. "I thank you." And this is the notice the minister wrote: "Mount Memorial Baptist church, the Rev. John Walker, pastor—preaching morning and evening. In the promulgation of the gospel, three books is necessary: The Bible, the hymn book and the pocketbook. Come tomorrow and bring all three."

Expensive Amusement.

There was a loud explosion and the car sagged a little sideways.

"A blow-out," growled the motorist to his wife and children; and the family climbed out and watched father begin to change the wheel.

"I don't see why you have to make all that fuss and bother, George," remarked his wife. "Neither do I see why you should use such language. You never could see good in anything."

"I can't see any in this!"

"Well, it tickled baby so. He actually laughed when it went bang."

One Way to Look at It.

Asked to illustrate "luck", a schoolboy wrote: "One time a man was murdered in the street for his money. But he had left all his money in the office. That was luck."

Holm's Car With College Boys As Passengers Overturns On Street

K. C. Holm of New Wilmington and five Westminster college students he was giving a lift to New Wilmington, had a narrow escape from serious injury shortly after 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon when the Holm car turned upside down and was wrecked on Wilmington avenue.

Fortunately, Mr. Holm and those in his car, a sedan, escaped with a few minor bruises, Mr. Holm complaining after the accident of an injured leg.

Motorcycle Officer Ray Richards happened on the scene shortly after the accident occurred and directed traffic, while also picking up the details of the accident and directing those involved to make a report at the central police station.

According to the report made by Mr. Holm, he was driving north on Wilmington avenue, near Moody avenue, when he saw two cars coming at a considerable rate of speed in the opposite direction.

One of these cars, whom it is said belonged to L. P. Williams of West Middlesex, turned suddenly to the left and in the path of the Holm car.

Mr. Holm turned quickly to one side to avoid a collision with one these cars. In the meantime, the other car, the number of which Mr. Holm did not secure, seemed to be trying to get in between the Holm car and the curb on Mr. Holm's side of the street and struck the Holm car.

In an instant, it seemed, according to Mr. Holm, his car went up into the air, turning upside down. According to statements made to the police, the indications are that a whole caused by an excavation in Wilmington avenue was the cause of the accident.

It is thought that the Williams car turned out to avoid it and in that way got nito the path of the Holm car and the accident resulted.

Texas High Girls Make Own Hats

(International News Service)

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Mar. 14.—Individuality and frugality are the reasons given by girl students of Brackenridge high school here for the decision to make their own chapeaux for the coming season.

Miss Elsie Jonas, who has charge of the sewing class, said that the girls are going to devote their spare time to designing and making their own hats this year.

The great problem confronting the girls of today, according to Miss Elsie Jonas, sewing teacher, is the difficulty experienced in buying ready-made hats that are adapted to one's personality and the contour of the head and face.

"It is almost impossible to buy a standard pattern in a hat to fit perfectly the contour and complexion of the individual, and that is where the girls who make their own hats have it over other girls," Miss Jonas said.

GIANT GAS WELL FLOWS IN HEART OF MT. JEWETT

Mt. JEWET, Pa., March 14.—A 357,000 foot gas well has been struck by the Mt. Jewett Gas company of Mt. Jewett. The well is located in the heart of the borough about 1,000 feet from the main street. Within four hours after the gas was struck it was turned into the pipes which supply the public of Mt. Jewet. As there has been many complaints by the residents of Mt. Jewet this winter on account of the lack of gas supply, it is thought that the new well will help considerably in alleviating conditions.

Delaware Educator Loses Certificate Until July For Talk To Director

DOVER—Mar. 14. — At the monthly session of the State Board of Education today, steps were taken to present to the legislature a bill for an extra appropriation for teachers' salaries, as the lower house recently passed the bill allowing colored teachers in the elementary grades to receive the same salary as white teachers, which will amount approximately to $20,000.

The board also heard the case of Miss Bessie Phillips, teacher at Bowers Beach, accused of untruthfulness and using bad language to a member of the school board of Bowers. Miss Phillips admitted using improper language to W. H. Carey, a member of the Bowers board, over school matters. The state board revoked her certificate until June 30, when she will have an opportunity to make application for reinstatement.

The board awarded the contract for building a new school at Hollymount, in Sussex county, to replace one destroyed by fire, to the Houston and White Company, of Millsboro.

Two Wife Beaters Face Whipping Post

Maryland Offenders To Appeal From Ten-Lash Sentences Of Magistrates

BALTIMORE, Mar. 14.—Kent county, Maryland, will whip a man for the first time in its history, and Talbot county for the first time since Civil War days, if two sentences of ten lashes each, for wife-beating, are allowed to stand.

In one case, that of Alfred L. Donnelly, Tilghman's Island, Magistrate Frank S. Orem of Talbot county attempted to rescind the sentence he had imposed, after, as he said, sleeping over it. State Attorney General Thomas H. Robinson has ruled, however, that the magistrate having once imposed sentence, he cannot reconside. Donnelly beat his 19-year-old wife. Magistrate Orem, in attempting to rescind the sentence, said he had decided the beating had not been brutal, and that he believed the whipping post should be used only in brutal cases.

Dislocated Shoulder

Henry Newhaus, of Rock Hall, Kent county, married his housekeeper last summer a few hours after he had hired her by means of a newspaper advertisement. It was testified before Magistrate Olin B. Stafford, who sentenced Newhaus, that they had quarreled frequently, their difficulties culminating last night in a domestic battle which sent Mrs. Newhaus to a hospital with a dislocated shoulder. Mrs. Newhaus also was fined $5 by the Magistrate for disturbing the peace.

No date has been set for either of the lashings. It has been indicated that both men will appeal. Sheriff Hadaway, of Kent county, has announced that, the county lacking a post, the whipping of Newhaus will be carried out in public, with the prisoner tied to a tree.

SPEED UP

Tragedy Is Seen In Farmer's Death

His wife, Sarah Stout, was murdered in her home November 11. Her step-son, Arthur Stout, is in jail at McArthur awaiting trial on a charge of first degree murder in connection with his step-mother's death. She was found beaten to death.

Pimples, Boils, Skin Eruptions

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system. This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S. S. S. You owe it to yourself to try S. S. S. It helps nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished. It is time-tried and reliable.

"I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S. S. S., which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S. S. S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S. S. S. a trial. It clears up the skin and makes you strong and fills you with energy." Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

S. S. S. is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Next Senate Looks Doubtful For Both Political Parties

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The next senate? Yes, an interogation point is right.

The next senate won't meet, with the rest of the 70th congress, until December 5. That's quite a long distance off, but don't imagine the rival party leaders aren't worrying about it in advance.

The Democratic senators have held a caucus already, to dope out their 1927-8 program. They held it right after Congress adjourned, before leaving for home. They'd have waited until a good deal later if they hadn't been so anxious.

The Republican senators did wait, but not because they're not anxious. Their policy was to take a little more time to look over the landscape.

All spring and summer and autumn the "fixing" will be going on.

The House of Representatives will be "pretty safe," as the Republicans express it, or "practically hopeless," to quote Democrats.

But the senate will be so close that any estimate of the alignment of noses must include Vice President Dawes' nose, and his beak counts, as all the world's aware, only in the event of senate ties.

The lineup is just that uncertain —and a darn sight more so, too.

Look at the official figures: Forty-eight Republicans, 47 Democrats and 1 Farmer-Laborite. If Shipstead, the Farmer-Laborite votes with the Democrats—and he certainly isn't a Coolidge administration man—he'll make it a tie every time, with Dawes casting the deciding vote—a Republican vote, it's to be assumed.

But we must remember that Senators-elect Smith of Illinois and Vare of Pennsylvania won't be seated—at any rate, not without a long, hard fight. That's a cinch. So we must drop their names from the Republican list, at least for awhile, which leaves:

Forty-seven Democrats, 46 Republicans and 1 Farmer-Laborite. If Shipstead votes with the Republicans, as he sometimes does, he'll tie the score again, and once more Dawes will break the deadlock.

But we know from experience that Shipstead won't always vote as scheduled. He'll vote as he likes. He's an unknown element, from the jump.

We've also counted Senators Norris, Frazier, Nye and LaFollette and Senators-elect Brookhart and Blaine as Republicans. Now, they're not Republicans, except in name. So we must lop them off the administration list, too.

That leaves a dependable Republican administration list only 40 strong. And it brings the anti-administration list—if we count Shipstead, the six Progressives and all the Democrats—up to a total of 54.

We can't take it for granted, however, that all the so-called Democrats will invariably be against the administration.

For example, only a day or two before adjournment, we heard one Democrat, Senator Edwards, declare that he could as readily imagine water running uphill as the re-election of another Democrat, Senator Copeland, on the Democratic ticket.

Thus we see that there are Democrats and Democrats as well as Republicans and Republicans.

There's no such out-and-out insurgent group in the Democratic as in the Republican senate alignment, but there are ten or a dozen Democratic senators who are on the Republican side of the fence as often as they're on their own.

Thus we see that arithmetic means nothing in footing up senate totals any more.

It takes algebra, to reckon unknown quantities, and geometry to calculate political angles, and tables of logarithms and Einstein theories of relativity.

Even with all these mathematical aids, the answer to the problem never comes out twice the same way.

No man really is as brave as he feels when leaving a dentist's office.

WIFE FROM BUREAU NOT IN TIPTOP SHAPE

LOS ANGELES, March 14.—When Edward A. Bardsley obtained his mail-order wife, he took her on a general warranty that she was in good shape, he told Judge Summerfield.

"But she was in far from what you would call good condition," he reported to the court. "Her teeth were ready to fall out, and it cost me all of $100 to get her so she could chew properly."

And so Bardsley wanted to return her, so to speak.

The matter before the court was Bardsley's suit to annul his marriage to Eva Bardsley. Under examination by Attorney Frank Lavan, he told the following tale:

"In the first place ,this affair cost me $10 for a subscription to a matrimonial magazine. She heard about me through the magazine. Well, she wrote that she was in fine shape and we got married. The first thing I knew I had to pay the dentist $100. Then she floated a bad check and I had to make that good. And then I ran across a letter from the publisher of the magazine telling her to trim me for all she could. Well, she has—for all she can."

Judge Summerfield continued the case for further technical evidence.

The modern reformer apparently expects all to follow his "noes".

Jump From Machine Saves Lives Of Two At Wampum Crossing

Failed To Hear P. & L. E. Freight On Account Of Pennsylvania Train On Bridge

Two men whose names were not secured had an almost miraculous escape from death at Wampum Saturday evening. The men were driving down cement hill in a small coupe. At the foot of the hill the Pennsylvania overhead bridge crosses the road. There was a train crossing the bridge when the men arrived. They stopped their machine for an instant, and then, evidently thinking the way was clear, turned from under the railroad bridge to the right, toward Ellwood City.

The Pittsburgh and Lake Erie tracks pass close to the east of the railroad bridge. There was a P. & L. E. freight train coming toward New Castle. The noise of the Pennsylvania train had evidently drowned the noise of it, the first notice the men had was when they drove around the abutment and saw the freight almost upon them. As they were driving slowly, both men jumped and succeeded in getting clear of the tracks. The next instant the freight struck their machine, reducing it to a shapeless mass. The machine bore an Ohio license. The men left without anyone having secured their names.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

THE UGLY MONSTER

Neither time nor the sun waits for any one. And while Petares and the lean dog slept these two faithful comrades were busy at their daily task of ushering in the night.

Time sent word to the wind and wind sent a breeze to blow away the heat. The shadows that forever hid among the rushes heard the breeze rustling the leaves above them and came peeping out to see what happened. And when they saw the sun had turned its back upon them they ventured out to play. More and more daring did they grow, stretching out their arms to mock the sunbeams, at last leaning far over the bank's edge to grasp at the ripples in the water.

The palm tree from which Petares had shaken down the cocoanuts stood quite a distance from the spot where the foolish little goat had met Mr. Crocodile, and where it grew a stream of water ran away from the river and followed its own sweet will through a narrow channel almost choked with rushes, and at the other end of this—but the little runaway stream had guessed what was at the other end of this channel—a deep pool of bright blue water, and it was this pool it was making for. And right where the runaway stream found the deep pool was the shady place where Petares and the lean dog had lain them down to sleep.

By and by the shadows, exploring, fell upon two queer things that, like mounds of mud, stuck out of the waters of the pool. Almost it seemed as though the queer black things felt the shadows' touch, liked it, wanted again to feel the cool caress. For scarcely had the shadows drawn back a bit frightened it may be at their own boldness, than there was great splashing in the pool, the ripples widened, the water which had been so bright and blue, clouded, the queer black things grew blacker and bigger, turned into a huge head. Out of the troubled waters rose an ugly monster.

Next: "Huff, Puff and a Fountain."

NEW CASTLE PREPARES FOR TOURNEY GAME

To Play Scottdale On Tuesday Night

Coach Bridenbaugh Preparing Team For Hard Struggle Tomorrow Night

Scottdale Has Strong Team; Close Battle Expected In Pitt Stadium

By "BUGS" WALTHER

New Castle High, having hurdled the high barrier that surrounded the Duquesne team in the W. P. I. A. L. tourney, will make another trip to Pittsburgh on Tuesday night. By virtue of their victory on last Friday night the locals have advanced to the semi-finals. Their opponents in the semi-final bracket will be Scottdale. The game tomorrow night is scheduled for the Pitt Stadium gym and will start at eight o'clock.

Out of the 11 teams that entered the tourney five are still in the running, as follows: New Castle, Braddock, Scottdale, Edgewood and Coraopolis. Tonight at the Pitt Stadium the Braddock and Coraopolis teams will clash, with the former team favored to win. New Castle, according to the dope, is the favorite to defeat Scottdale tomorrow night, thus bringing New Castle and Braddock High into the final game for the championship. Braddock High must also defeat Edgewood Friday night to enter the final bracket.

In Scottdale High the Red and Black clad warriors are meeting a team that will more than match their cleverness. The Scottdale team in the first round of the tourney upset the dope by defeating the strong Bellevue team, 16 to 14. The Bellevue team had won 23 straight games before being stopped by Scottdale. On the strength of their showing against Bellevue the Scottdale team is ranked high and they are liable to trip the locals.

Locals Display Class.

New Castle High displayed real class last Friday night in downing the powerful Duquesne High team. The locals came through in fine style against a team that had been picked by the wise boys to win the W. P. I. A. L. title. With the "Dukes" out of the running the boys have switched to either Braddock or New Castle.

Scottdale fought its way to the elimination tourney by defeating the fast Uniontown team and other teams in Section XI, and it is said that the "Scotties" have one of the best teams that ever represented the institution in that city.

Coach Bridenbaugh plans to send the boys through a light workout today and then rest on the oars until the game tomorrow night. The boys labor under a terrible strain in these championship affairs and they are urged to rest as much as possible.

Scottdale Strong.

New Castle High knows full well that if they are to defeat the Scottdale team tomorrow night they must play a real brand of basketball. Rush at center for the Scottdale team is said to be one of the best pivot men in the league today. McGrath will have his hands full in watching this slippery boy. McGrath in the first game played by the locals at Pittsburgh earned for himself the name of one of the fightingest centers to appear in the tourney, and has been nicknamed the "Fighting Irishman".

The work of Sillman and Ostrosky will be watched with interest tomorrow night, they will be pitted against two of the best forwards in the league and it will be worth while watching. The Kowallis brothers found the guarding of Sillman and Ostrosky not to their liking and if the local boys play the same brand of ball tomorrow night, the Scottdale forwards are going to have a mighty hard time in breaking into the scoring column.

The New Castle team will depart for Pittsburgh early Tuesday afternoon and will make their headquarters at the Schenley hotel.

All teams have good rubbers, but they don't seem to hold the rookies the managers don't want.

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa. March 14.—With their backs to the wall, the sophomore team at Westminster college handed the freshmen a 25-15 lacing Saturday afternoon on the college floor. Friday evening the freshmen had trounced the sophomores 26-23. The sophomore victory necessitates a third game which will probably be played the first part of this week.

Friday's game was a complete upset. Starting out like champs, the second-year class piled up a lead which in the face of the poor showing of the frosh, seemed perfectly safe. The score board showed a count of 17-8 in favor of the sophs at half time. However, the comeback powers of the freshmen had to be reckoned with for in the second half they slowly crept forward and with a brilliant last minute attack won out, 26-23.

Wettich, a New Castle lad, starred in the first game for the freshmen. He caged six field goals, five of which were scored in the second half. Eagleson starred for the sophomores with five double deckers.

The sophomores were desperate Saturday and took no chances. In the first half they accumulated a 10-4 lead and then continued their advance.

Title Game At "Y" Tonight

Tin Mill Will Play Overlands

Both Teams On Edge For Title Battle At Y. M. C. A.; Overlands Favored

FAST PRELIMINARY GAME ARRANGED

By "BUGS" WALTHER.

The championship of the City Industrial Floor league will be settled tonight at the Y. M. C. A. when the Tin Mill and Rick-Overland teams clash in the main go of the program. The Liberty Five will clash with the Musketeers in the preliminary game. The first game will start at 8 o'clock.

Both games scheduled for tonight have a championship tinge. The Liberty Five and Musketeers are two of the best junior teams in the city, and their is intense rivalry between them. The Liberty boys have won something like fifteen straight games this year and are strong contenders for the title. The Musketeers as members of the Boy's league have played sensational basketball all year and are rated high in junior circles. Both teams are on edge for the game tonight.

No Three Game Series

The Rick-Overlands will enter the title bout with the Tin Mill tonight rated as favorites to cop the league honors. The Overlands by virtue of their recent victory over the "Tin Wallopers" are expected by the wise boys to crash through again tonight.

It was at first thought that the teams should play a three game series to determine the championship, but this was changed at a meeting held recently in the Y. M. C. A. and attended by both teams.

Both teams have played a high class brand of basketball this year and each has won two victories over the other. The Tin Mill boys captured the championship of the league in the first-half of play by taking six straight victories. The second-half of the race ended in a deadlock with the Tin Mill and Overlands on even ground. The Overlands recently defeated the Tin Mill for the right to play for the championship.

Fraser In Lineup

With Fraser the star center back in the lineup, the Tin Mill boys will present an improved lineup over the one that suffered the recent setback. The Overlands are full of confidence following their recent victory and they intend to follow it up with another of the same variety.

The teams are about evenly matched. The Tin Mill roster contains several men who have had more experience than the Overlands, while the Overland team is composed of a group of youngsters who have played together for the past several years and they are ranked as one of the best teams in Lawrence county. The Overlands last year won their way to the junior championship of Lawrence county in a heated tourney held at the Y. M. C. A., and their work this year is above that of last season.

Walter E. Kirker, announced today that an effort will be made to secure the services of "Hickory" Hetra former Westminster floor star to handle the referee's whistle tonight. Hetra handled the recent Tin Mill-Overland game and officiated in first class manner.

Following are the probable lineups for tonight's title game:

| Tin Mill. | | Overlands. |
|---|---|---|
| Melder | F | Cuba |
| Gennock | F | Nocera |
| Fraser | C | Kirker |
| Volesko | G | Uhle |
| Sumner | G | Jones |

And because he is one of the fastest men, both on the bases and in the field, in the American league.

Open-Handed Men By Feg Murray

The annual A. A. U. four wall handball championships begin today in Detroit and unless the title holder, Maynard Laswell has changed his mind about entering the end of the week's play will find a new king crowned in this great sport. What a pity it is that more people cannot watch championship handball for that is all it needs to make it as popular as any other indoor game. The very nature of the four-wall courts prevents more than a handful of people from seeing thrilling battles that easily rank with the best of tennis as a sporting event to watch.

Maynard Laswell of the Los Angeles Athletic club, the handball king of the United States for the last three years and runner-up in 1923 has written me that he will not defend his title this year as having established a world's record for three consecutive wins I feel that I am in a position to retire undefeated especially since I have devoted so much time to amateur athletics. I feel that this record with the present crop of players will stand for a long time."

"Las" before going back to the patent fire extinguisher which is really making him rich and famous picks his probable successor. He names a newcomer, Dr. John Knight of the Kansas City A. C.; Jack Donovan and Lane McMillan of the Olympic club of San Francisco the present national doubles champions; Joe Bathe and Al Shanfelberger of Detroit and Bill Ranft of Los Angeles as the most serious contenders.

Laswell beat Donovan in the finals last year, although Donovan is considered by handball experts to have the most perfect form and the smoothest action of all the men in the game. Bill Ranft who probably still hits a harder ball than any other player in spite of his 38 years was the first official "national champion" back in 1919. He is a colorful player with a marvelous "kill" and a good head on his shoulders. In the 1922 tournament at Milwaukee, Ranft won one match without allowing his opponet a single point in the two games. In 1924 at Los Angles he surprised the experts by eliminating the champion "Red" Murray in one of the most thrilling battles ever waged in any sport and in 1925 at Cleveland he showed his good sportsmanship by defaulting to his team mate Laswell when they met inthe round before the semi final.

I'd give a lot to be in Detroit this week to see this tournament.

Landis Refuses To Reinstate Waver

Buck Weaver's hope of playing in organized baseball was smashed when his plea for reinstatement was turned down by Judge Landis. The judge wrote Buck that the decision of 1922 barring him from baseball forever still stands. He was an alleged participant in the Black Sox scandal of 1919.

Houston will be host to the annual outdoor track and field championships of the Southwestern Conference on May 13-14.

Lewis of Westminster has been assigned a guard position on the first team, or all-collegiate, Tri-State conference by Jess M. Carver while Connors has been placed at forward on the second team. ## Two Games Tonight On Falcon Court

Two fast games are on tap for the floor fans tonight at the Polish Falcon floor court. In the first game the Trojans will meet the Marcella Grocers and in the second game the Shamrocks will clash with the Bessemer Pirates.

The first game will start at 7:15 o'clock. All members of the Trojan and Grocer outfit are asked to be at the Falcon hall a7 p. m. sharp.

Manager Jack Dunn of the Baltimore Internationals thinks the addition of the veteran Everett Scott will assist materially in the efforts of the Orioles to resume their pennant-winning habit, which was interrupted last year after seven consecutive flags had been raised in the Baltimore park. While in the majors Scott established the greatest record for continuous play known in big league baseball when he took part in 1,307 consecutive games.

Plans Completed For Special Train Tuesday

Plans for another special train to Pittsburgh on Tuesday night have gone forward, and it begins to look as if the New Castle High team would be well supported in their battle with Scottdale High.

According to word from Ralph H. Gardner today the special will be run over the P. & L. E. lines. The train will leave New Castle about 5:30 and returning will leave Pittsburgh at about 10 o'clock.

The round-trip fare to Pittsburgh tomorrow night will be the same as before at $1.79, with a ten-cent additional fare for the street car trip to the Pitt Stadium. The Pittsburgh Street Railway officials have promised to have sufficient cars on hand to handle the New Castle crowd.

Tickets for the special train have been placed on sale at the High School, the Sporting Goods Store, and the P. & L. E. station. The admission tickets for the game will be 50 cents as before if purchased here in New Castle, and 75 cents if bought at the stadium.

There is considerable interest being shown in the game for tomorrow night with every indication to believe that the locals will be upheld in fine style. It is said that Scottdale High in their first game in the tourney brought about 500 people to Pittsburgh.

There is not much time left to buy your tickets, so get them sometime today and avoid the rush at the last minute.

O. & P. Managers Adopt Schedule

League Managers Meet At Youngstown And Adopt 1927 Playing Schedule

The managers of the O. and P. league at their meeting held in Youngstown on Sunday afternoon adopted among other things the league schedule for the season of 1927.

Carm Sacco represented the New Castle team at the meeting. It was decided upon that the New Castle team open the season at Erie on Thursday, April 28 and that Youngstown would be the opening attraction for New Castle at Centennial field for Saturday April 30. New Castle is also billed for the opening game at Youngstown on Sunday May 1. By this arrangement the locals have three opening dates.

The managers at their meeting yesterday adopted the Spaulding ball for the season of 1927.

The directors of the New Castle ball team will hold an important meeting on Tuesday night. The matter of lining up playing material will be taken up at this time.

Cleveland's Outfield Shifts To Fill Gap Left By Speaker

By NORMAN E. BROWN.
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

LAKELAND, Fla., March 14.—Ever since the departure of Tris Speaker the main interest in the future of the Cleveland club has been the conjecture as to how the outfield would be re-arranged to fill the gap left by the great centerfielder.

No one knows just how the gap will be filled, eventually. But it can be stated definitely right now at the club will start the season th—

Charley Jamieson in left field as usual.

Homer Summa playing centerfield in Speaker's place.

Fred Eichrodt and Pat McNulty sharing the right field job, Eichrodt working against left-handers and McNulty against rightsiders.

George Gerken, young outfielder from the Decatur club of the Three-Eye league will be carried to replace Summa in center or one of the boys in right, if needed.

This program will hold if Summa can fill the bill in center as capably as he did in rightfield last year, although not up to Spoke's usual standard, and if Eichrodt and McNulty, between them, can protect right. Or at least until the club lands by purchase or trade an experienced outfielder who will be a sure fire bet in either center or right.

The club has tried to buy an experienced outfielder that it feels would not only fit in immediately, but would be able to carry a share of the load for several years. President Barnard did not seek Zach Wheate's services at the price asked mainly because of the feeling that Wheat would not solve the situation for more than a year.

His Only Real Problem

Manager Jack McCallister's task of handling his outfield situation is a tough one, but he should find some consolation in the fact that that furnished him his only nut to crack at present. The team wound up the season in second place and going strong. He has his same regulars (with the exception of Spoke) and apparently has an improved pitching staff and better reserve strength.

"Sundown" Yowell, a total loss last season, but rated a good young pitcher, seems in shape this year and tells me he has no inkling that his arm, lame all last season, is going to start a row again. He is a southpaw and has a beautiful side-arm swing when he's in shape.

With Shaute, Buckeye, Miller and Yowell ready to lefthand the opposition, McCallister is sitting pretty on southpaws. Uhle pledges himself to shoot at last season's mark—27 victories, and seems in better shape than last spring at this time. Young Emil Levsen, biggest winner next to Uhle, has that year behind him and is more experienced. Garland Buckeye handicapped by 265 pounds of fat at the close of last season, now is down to 240 pounds. He won six games last season and lost nine. Old Sherry Smith will be emergency pitcher again, and if he adds 11 games to the total as he did last season, will do his share. And then there is Willis Hudlin, a rookie who broke into the lineup last fall long enough to win a game.

New "Tame Bill."

I have it on the word of Grover Land, veteran catcher and now Cinci coach, that Hudlin is a replica of Wild Bill Donovan. "Except that Hudlin isn't wild," Grover adds. "He could toss 'em into a tin cup all day," says Land.

Hudlin impresses Barnard and McCallister favorably. However, unless someone sits on him he will wear his arm out before the time comes to use it.

The club has added Lew Fonseca, International league slugger, to its infield crew and Urban Hodapp, third baseman lost to the team last season through injury, is ready to demand a crack at third should Walter Lutzke slip. Which gives the new pilot more reserve strength for his first defense. Myatt and Autrey are the catchers again.

As said before there is little to worry about, but that outfield problem. And McCallister can concentrate on it—which ought to help.

And in the meantime, write your own ticket on Speaker's probable success with the Senators. Nobody here will write one for you.

Yankees Bank On Babe Ruth To Bring Another Pennant To Big Stadium

"As Ruth Goes, So Go The Yankees", But Ruth Is Laid Up Just Now

Yankees Have Added Little Strength To Team Since Last Season

(Editor's Note—This is the third of a series by Davis J. Walsh on major league ball clubs in training. Others will follow.)

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 14.—After several days of personal observation I am able to report today that the ball club known as the New York Yankees has turned out to be an extremely decorous gentleman. He has an injured leg as a result of turning his ankle in Orlando some days ago but that is merely a temporary condition while it may be that his reformation is permanent.

"As Ruth goes, so go the Yankees," has been the axiom of the outfit these several years and therefore it is interesting to relate that Ruth is going to bed nightly at 11 o'clock. They closed up the dog track on him last week, thereby denying him his only nocturnal divertisement but the great man seems to have accepted the blow with marked fortitude. He doesn't even hang around the drug store anymore.

This fact automatically makes the Yankees an exemplary team since Ruth is the ball club. With him, it is an inevitable contender, certain to run one-two-three. Without him it would be destined for the second division.

Ruth is Key-Man.

It is a club that must gets its results via an orgy of hitting and Ruth, of course, is the key-man. Its pitchers are a bit elderly, its infield is a first class sieve, but Ruth, Meusel, Combs, Gehrig, Paschal and Lazzerri will drive in a lot of runs and the common impression is that they intend to count runs again this year.

Having won a pennant in this most uncouth manner, it is plausible to expect that the Yankees either will attempt to be couth or that they will make any radical changes in their personnel; yet I got the impression from Miller Huggins today that he is considering several. One of them, it seems, was made possible by the Ward deal with the Chicago White Sox, and if it is carried out, so also will be Mark Koenig, the five-thumbed shortstop.

Koenig made several accomplished drop kicks against the Reds at Orlando last week and it now is feared that he is the kind of man who may drop ten in a row and then suffer a bad slump. It has been intimated rather strongly in the Yankee camp that Ray Morehart, the pride and joy of Terrill, Texas, may do himself a lot of good here. He is being touted as the club's regular second baseman with Lazzerri being moved over to shortstop and Koenig being moved over at will as the exigencies of a crowded bench develop.

Grabowski as Catcher.

It may be even more crowded this year, for it seems possible that Johnny Grabowski, another ex-Chicago employe, will catch quite a few ball games this year, thereby depriving Pat Collins of his free-born right of hitting a spectator in the centerfield bleachers with his throw to second base. Grabowski, by way of contrast, has uncovered one of the finest throwing arms in baseball while here. Bengough, of course, figures to be the club's first catcher.

Otherwise, the Yanks will be the same old ball club, a little slow, a little dumb in spots but more than a little inclined to hit the next ball pitched for a round trip to the old homestead. Its offensive is what will keep the team in the race all the way but it may be its defense, or lack thereof, is what will keep it from winning another pennant.

The pitchers are another source of uncertainty, the regular staff of Pennock, Ruether, Shocker, Shawkey and Hoyt being just a bit too rheumatic for its own good. Pennock, a hold-out to date, still is a great pitcher; Ruether figures to have another average year, but Hoyt only is as good as he cares to be and the others frankly have seen the procession move on ahead.

Bank on Moore.

However, it is possible that Wilcy Moore, up from Hollis, Okla., via Greenville, N. C., may redeem the situation and George Pipgras, back again from St. Paul, is another possibility in this direction. Moore was bought over the telephone because he had won 30 ball games. He looks like a good pitcher. Pipgras is just about due, if he ever is going anywhere except back, while Roy Chesterfield of Brazil, Ind., has better than an even chance of remaining with the outfit. Then, of course, there is Walter Beall, who may get around to the matter of pitching to the batter instead of the first baseman. However, Henry Johnson has taken Beall's place as the annual spring hope in the camp.

The select few of the younger generation who figure to stick are not pitchers, as a matter of fact. One of them is Elias Funk, from Oklahoma City, who has simply astounded the natives with his natty fielding in centerfield. Elias may go out again, since the Yanks have a superfluity of outfielders, but he will be back. George Davis the Bridgeport, Conn., specimen has made six hits in his last seven times at bat.

One Julian Wera of Winona, Minn., has called forth some favorable comment on his fielding but with Dugan, Koenig, Lazzerri, Gazella, Morehart and Spencer Adams on or about the premises, any rising young man's style is certain to be cramped. Ed Phillips, up from St. Paul, may make the riffle as third string catcher but otherwise this isn't the place where youth will be served.

LAKELAND, Fla.—The Cleveland Indians today will attempt to avenge their defeat at the hands of the Columbus American Association team last week at Plant City. The A. A. batters will probably face Karr and Buckeye, who have been booked to do the hurling for the tribe.

Hunt for Boy

While thousands watched from a bridge above, Thomas Walsh, diver, explored the bottom of Gowanus Canal, New York, seeking the body of four-year-old Billy Gaffney. A nation-wide search was on for the lad, who was believed to have been kidnaped under mysterious circumstances.

Training Camps

(International News Service)

BRADENTON, Fla., March 14.—The Phillies start today on their third week of the spring training grind with four exhibition games scheduled to be played before the week is over. The team has lost the first two contests due to errors. No game is scheduled for today.

FORT MYERS, Fla.—The A.'s engage today in the first of five games scheduled for this week, meeting the St. Louis Cardinals at Avon Park. Connie Mack's Athletes have won two of their three starts to date. Mack was well pleased today over the condition of Ty Cobb, declaring the Georgia Peach would be fit and ready to go when the season opens.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Outfielder Bob Meusel has reported and is expected to sign a contract today sparring a few rounds with Col. Ruppert's bankroll. Herb Pennock is the only regular not in camp. The Yanks play Baltimore at Auburndale today.

CLEARWATER, Fla.—Announcement of the Brooklyn line-up for the game with the St. Louis Browns tomorrow reveals new faces in four positions—Statz in left field, Hendrick in right field, Partridge at second base and Barrett at third base.

SARASOTA, Fla.—The New York Giants began a busy week today by tackling the Boston Braves. After meeting the Phillies at Bradentown tomorrow the Giants play the Braves at St. Petersburg on Wednesday, the Cardinals here on Thursday and the Senators at Tampa on Friday and Saturday.

PASO ROBLES, Cal.—The Pirates rested after the yannigans took the regulars into camp Sunday to the tune of 4 to 1, with Bullet Joe Bush on the mound for the youngsters. Manager Donie Bush decreed an off day today to rest up for a heavy schedule Tuesday.

TAMPA, Fla.—Walter Johnson may be lost to the Senators for a month after the season opens, it was admitted today. Johnson has been sent to Washington with his broken foot in a plaster cast. He was taken to the station in a wheel chair. The accident has increased Bucky Harris' worry over his pitching staff.

SHREVEPORT, La.—"Cracker" Schalk's White Sox scampered about the ball lot like so many young colts today, fired with the ambition that comes with a suddenly acquired knowledge of power. The Sox swamped Shreveport in a regular game yesterday, 10 to 3, and therein lies the secret of the cavorting. Willie Kamm led the attack with a home run, a double and a single.

LOS ANGELES—Joe McCarthy's Cubs were being handed the merry razzberry today for letting the Hollywood Stars of the Pacific Coast League steal a ball game right from under their noses, so to speak. The Cubs were breezing along nicely when up stepped Catcher Murphy, batting out of turn for Hollywood. The Cubs were fast asleep. Murphy started a rally that won the game, 5 to 3.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—Tiny Owens, the huge pitcher, who was discharged by the Tigers for breaking training, has been sold outright to Minneapolis and will join that team in training at Decatur, Ala., at once. The Tigers resumed the training grind today.

TOURING THE TRAINING CAMPS, March 14.—The "White Man's Burden" has nothing on that carried by great pitchers.

Chatting with Bob O'Farrell, new manager of the Cardinals, the other day, I happened to mention the fact that Grove Alexander's work last season was remarkable in that most of the time his teammates failed to give him much of a margin on which to work.

* * *

"That has been the case with Alec at least ever since he joined the Chicago Cubs back in 1918," said O'Farrell. "No matter how the team hit against other pitchers they seemed unable to get more than one or two runs for Alec most of the time. And that's been true since he came to the Cardinals."

So I asked Alec about it later.

"I guess that's just one of the burdens some fellows have to bear," said the old master. What he meant was that it was one that a great pitcher must carry.

"It's the same way most of the time with Walter Johnson."

"I think the main reason is that the opposing team usually saves its best pitcher to send against you. They can figure just about when you're due to pitch and save their best bet to work against you. This means that the hitters are going to have a harder time piling up a few runs for you. It certainly isn't because the team doesn't want to hit behind you. The ball player is after his base hits and runs all the time."

* * *

Later over at Tampa, I brought up the matter with Johnson. He laughed a bit and with the same modesty Alec showed said "I guess it's just because you happen to be pitching when the boys have an off day at bat. Sometimes they'll collect a nice lead for me and other times will have a hard time making one or two runs.

"When you've only got a one or two-run lead to work on you simply have to pitch on that basis—and bear down."

In one of the discussions it was pointed out, incidentally, that Lefty Grove, long Athletic southpaw, might have had a better record last season had the Mackmen hit behind him more opportunely. One western road trip last year Grove hurled something like five games in every one of which the Athletics were shut out. And it is a very plain axiom with pitchers that you can't win a game without a run.

Lefty Dyer, lifted from the Syracuse International league club by the Cardinals, may well enter the discussion. He won 12 games and lost 6 for the minor league club last season.

"And five of the six games I was beaten I lost by one lone run," says he. The sixth game I took a trimming."

Stanley Coveleskie, veteran spitball pitcher with the Senators, experienced considerable hard luck pitching while with Cleveland. The Indians would switch, apparently, from a batting rampage to a terrible slump when Covey took the mound. Game after game he pitched under the handicap of poor hitting.

For the first time in history a cross-country race of Moslem girls in Turkey is to be held this spring.

Exploit of the Ram "Arkansas."

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

ON JULY 15, 1862, WHILE STEAMING DOWN THE YAZOO RIVER ON HER WAY TO VICKSBURG, THE POWERFUL CONFEDERATE RAM "ARKANSAS", UNDER THE COMMAND OF CAPT. BROWN, SUDDENLY ENCOUNTERED THE FEDERAL IRONCLAD "CARONDELET" AND THE WOODEN GUNBOAT "TYLER". MANY SHIPS OF FARRAGUT'S AND DAVIS'S FLEETS WERE THEN LYING IN THE MISSISSIPPI AT THE MOUTH OF THE YAZOO AND THE "CARONDELET" AND "TYLER" HAD BEEN SENT TO LOCATE THE SOUTHERN RAM.

THE "TYLER" PLUCKILY OPPOSED THE "ARKANSAS", BUT WAS SOON PIERCED THROUGH AND THROUGH AND FLED DOWN THE RIVER TO ALARM THE FLEET. THE CONFEDERATE VESSEL STARTED IN PURSUIT BUT STOPPED TO EXCHANGE BROADSIDES WITH THE "CARONDELET". FAILING TO MAKE ANY IMPRESSION ON THE IRON PLATES OF THE "ARKANSAS", CAPT. WALKE OF THE UNION SHIP RESOLVED TO BOARD HIS OPPONENT.

THE "CARONDELET" WAS RUN ALONGSIDE THE "ARKANSAS" AND LASHED TO HER WITH GRAPNEL HOOKS WHILE THE FEDERAL SAILORS SWARMED ABOARD THE RAM. THE CONFEDERATES PROMPTLY LOCKED THEMSELVES SAFELY INSIDE THEIR IRON SHELL AND DROVE OFF THE BOARDING PARTY WITH SMALL-ARMS FIRE AND STREAMS OF HOT WATER.

FINALLY BREAKING AWAY FROM THE "CARONDELET" THE "ARKANSAS" SPED DOWN-STREAM AND REACHED THE MISSISSIPPI, WHERE SHE FOUND THE UNION FLEET READY FOR ACTION. NOTWITHSTANDING THE MANY SHIPS OPPOSED TO HER, THE RAM INFLICTED MORE DAMAGE THAN SHE RECEIVED AND, BRAVELY RUNNING THE GANTLET OF FIRE, PASSED THEM ALL AND GAINED THE PROTECTION OF THE CONFEDERATE BATTERIES DOWN THE RIVER.

TOMORROW—THE PATCHWORK BALLOON.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK Mar. 14.—Bulls in the stock market directed their attention to the tire and rubber stocks and selected list of utility, motor and specialty stocks in early trading today. Behind the strength in these stocks considerable profit taking was indulged in the rails and industrials and rails which led last week's aggressive advance.

Though last year's earnings record of U. S. Steel Corporation was well known in advance, the publication of the annual report, and Judge Gary's optimistic comment on the steel business served to call attention to the health state of general business. The big steel corporation earned $17.99 a share last year, which would be equivalent to $12.85 a share on the capital stocks as increased by the proposed 40 per cent stock distribution. From that standpoint, dividends at the rate of $7 a share annually on the new capitalization looked reasonable, and the market showed a good demand for the stock.

Mack Trucks was the outstanding ground-gainer in the motor list, the stock spurting to above 108 in active trading. U. S Rubber led the tire stocks and many of the low-priced stocks in this group participated. Standard and independent oils slumped on further gasoline price cuts, some of the active issues losing 1 to 2 points. Steel and copper stocks were inactive and featureless, as also were the sugar, tobacco and equipment stocks.

Benjamin Harmon alleged that the New Orleans ordinance and the state law upon which it was based violated the fourteenth amendment to the Federal Constitution giving negroes equal protection of the law.

Under the New Orleans ordinance, a majority of the residents on any street determined whether it to be a "white" or a "negro" community. A building permit was refused Benjamin Harmon on the ground that he was converting a house in a white community into a "double cottage," to be rented to a negro.
